Miss Menlo-Atherton:

Contest 'Shapes Up' Among Area Beauties

"Shaping up" is the word for the annual Miss Menlo-Atherton contest, to be held June 29 at Burgess Park pool.

Prospective applicants, according to a spokesman for the sponsoring Menlo - Atherton Junior Chamber of Commerce, are making themselves known daily.

The girl selected as Miss Menlo-Atherton will represent the area in the county's annual Miss Fiesta Dream Girl contest; the winner of that contest eventually will vie to preside over the California State Fair.

Menlo Park merchants are donating valuable prizes to go along with the title.

Contestants will be judged on the basis of beauty, with poise and personality accounting for 20 per cent of a possible perfect score, according to Gene Bell, Jaycee publicity chairman for the contest.

"More contestants are needed to provide the necessary competition to assure this area the best possible candidate in the Fiesta Dream Girl contest," he declared.

To be eligible, contestants must reside in Menlo Park, Atherton, Woodside, or adjacent unincorporated area.

Entry blanks may be obtained by contacting Jerry's Store for Men, the Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce, or the Menlo Park Recorder.

Contestants must be between the ages of 16 and 26, not married, and must have been residents of the county for a year.

INTROSPECTION . . . . . over a birdbath comes to mind in pose of 18-year-old Janis Hubbenette, new entry in Miss Menlo-Atherton beauty contest. A 1962 graduate of Woodside High School, Miss Hubbenette measures 35-22-34 and is a petite 5' 2", 105 pounds. She's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hubbenette of 115 Dean Road, Woodside. The beauty competition will be on June 29.

School Tax Hike Posed In Woodside

Woodside elementary school trustees this week are faced with the possibility of a sizable hike in the district's operating tax rate.

According to preliminary budget figures released last week, the rate could rise as much as 64 cents for the 1963-64 term. Supt. Lester Larsen's first budget presentation called for expenses of $266,000 and a tax rate of about $2.65. The school district levied a $2.01 tax rate this year to raise funds for a $242,000 budget.

Larsen stressed that this is necessarily a preliminary figure and could be reduced quite a bit.

Main reason for the jump is the addition of four new teachers and an increase in the time of the music and Spanish teachers next year, according to Larsen. He said the new teachers are needed to staff a five-classroom wing now under construction.

Woodside Council Defers Talk On Portola Valley Annex Plan

The Woodside Town Council Monday deferred for additional study and discussion the proposed annexation of Portola Valley to the Town of Woodside.

Although a bid for circulation of an annexation petition was turned down last week by the town's planning commission, the council saw fit to hold off action since, in the words of Mayor Donald Graham, "it appears there's still some difference of opinion among members of the planning commission."

Graham was referring to a warning incorporated in the planners' recommendation, made at the insistence of planner Dr. Richard I. Gonzalez. Gonzalez maintains that allowing the valley to remain unincorporated poses a danger to Woodside.

The Action Group for Local Control in Portola Valley is the group desiring the merger of Portola Valley's 6370 acres and 2500 residents with Woodside.

The commission advised against the annexation in the belief that many of the large land owners don't want to be included; that the area is too big for effective control, and that too many use variations are allowed.

Youths Nabbed In Auto Here

Three San Francisco youths were booked on charges of being in possession of a stolen auto and three others were released to the custody of their parents Tuesday, after all six were found in a stolen car here.

Police said they first sighted the car as it was being driven along Willow Road by a 17 year-old boy. They started to follow it because it was being erratically driven.

The driver didn't have a license with him and couldn't tell police the name of the owner of the 1961 four-door sedan, police said. A check by radio disclosed that it had been stolen.

School Meet Tonight:

New Tax Election?

Menlo Park School District trustees are to meet in a special session tonight, to start procedures aimed at setting a new permissive tax rate election.

The April 18 election setting the permissive tax rate maximum at $2.16 Tuesday was declared invalid by Superior Court Judge Wayne R. Millington.

District Attorney Keith Sorenson said that he would recomend that the district's board call a new election as a precaution, but said he would also recommend that they appeal Millington's decision.

Meantime, the trustees are faced with the fact that the district's tax rate will drop to 90 cents per $100 assessed valuation on July 1. There won't be time for a new election to be called between now and then.

Judge Millington arrived at his decision that the April 16 election was invalid on the basis that there was a failure to publish legal advertisements in newspapers, stating the proposition.

"It is true that courts are hesitant in declaring an election invalid and will not, for types of errors, etc." the judge wrote. "However, an absolute failure to follow a statute is sufficient to invalidate."

District Attorney Sorenson termed the decision "disappointing." He said he thought the election was valid, because all voters received notice of it at their homes ,and in addition the proposal to raise the district's tax rate maximum from $1.99 to $2.16 per $100 assessed valuation had been given ample publicity in the newspapers.

The fact that there was no legal publication about the permissive tax rate election stemmed from the fact that the resolution calling for the election wasn't passed until after a notice of the concurrent election of school district trustees election had been scheduled for publication.

A mixup in communication between the Menlo Park School District office and the county schools department resulted in failure of the publication; local school district officials didn't get the word to publish the notice.

'Chestmobile' In Woodside

The Christmas Seal chestmobile will be at oWodside tomorow, June 14, to offer free chest X-rays to adults over 15 years of age. The mobile unit will be parked at Leo's Garage at Woodside and Canada roads, and will be open from noon to 1:30 p.m. and from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

8 p.m. Ceremony:

Ferris Miles to Give Diplomas At Menlo-Atherton Graduation

Ferris Miles will represent the board of trustees of the Sequoia High School District tomorrow night, when the Menlo-Atherton High School graduating class of 1963, 385 strong, will receive diplomas.

The graduation ceremony will commence at 8 p.m. on the graduation green facing Ringwood Road on the Atherton campus.

Donald Harriss will be in charge of instrumental music for the affair, which will start with a prelude, processional and the national anthem.

Senior class president Robert Burnett will introduce student speakers, Peter Benjaminson and Barbara Dittrich.

The a capella choir of the school, under the direction of Douglas Stobie, will sing, after which senior class president Robert Burnett will present the class gift.

Principal Malcolm Taylor will present the class to Miles.

Senior class officers for the past year have been Burnett, president; Frederick Keast, vice president; Barbara Dittrich, secretary, and Barry Franklin, treasurer.

On Campus:

362 to Be Graduated Friday From Woodside High School

Three hundred and sixty-two students are candidates for graduation from Woodside High School and are to receive diplomas from Richard M. Pyle, member of the school district's board of trustees.

"How to Try without Really Succeeding" will be the title of the graduation talk, to be delivered to the students by James Day.

The program will open with a processional played by the Woodside High School band under the direction of Robert L. Clark.

Wililam Roberts, senior class vice president, will introduce the student speakers who will include Roberta Christ, discussing "Return On Your Investment in Education," and William Roberts, who will present the class gift.

Principal Willard Bradley will introduce Day, who will address the graduates.

The program will close with the awarding of diplomas and the playing of musical numbers.

Presiding Last Time:

Principal Donald Bogie to See 134 Graduate at Ravenswood

Blue and white-gowned Ravenswood High School seniors take a major step toward their future tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the school gymnasium.

The class of 1963, composed of 134 young men and women, will receive diplomas that evening from Dr. Rex H. Turner, superintendent of the Sequoia Union High School District.

The Friday night ceremonies will conclude four years of education at the East Palo Alto campus — and a busy final week of senior activities.

Six student speakers will keynote the graduation. They are Tadashi Kuwano, chairman; Ima Jean Lane, Thomas Turner, Sondra Sutton and Leanne Friedman.

Retiring Ravenswood High principal Donald L. Bogie, presiding over his final graduation at RHS, will recite and present awards and honors to individual class members.

Senior class president Ann McIntyre's presentation of the senior class gift will be followed by the diploma ceremony conducted by Bogie and Dr. Turner.

Hearing Said Delay Cause

Because of a State Vehicle Code rule, Menlo Park's efforts to end Palo Alto-bound truck traffic on Willow and Middlefield Roads has been stymied—temporarily.

The new Menlo Park truck route ordinance was to go into effect on Monday, June 17.

But the State Vehicle Code requires that cities with roadways financed partially by gas tax money must hold public hearings — with 60 days notice—when they set truck routes over those streets.

The Menlo Park City Council Tuesday night set Aug. 27 for the hearing.

But they promised to go ahead with the "squeeze" on Palo Alto-bound truck traffic after that time.

"This will just prolong the warning period," said councilman Ira Bonde.

(For the last week or so, Menlo Park police officers have been stopping heavy trucks with non-Menlo Park destinations and informing the drivers of the truck route restrictions which are to come.)

SMITH TOPS BIDDERS

The L. C. Smith Company was the successful low bidder for two Menlo Park paving projects Tuesday night. The biggest one was a $13,181.95 contract for resurfacing Bay Road from the boundary with San Mateo County to Ringwood Avenue.

City Engineer Edwin Smith's estimate was $13,560. There were six other bidders in the field.

L. C. Smith also submitted successful low bids for asphalt resurfacing of Hillview School tennis courts and the parking lots at Burgess and Nealon Parks. The bid here was $4,340 and the estimate was $5,250.

The Smith company almost made three successful bids—but Douglas and Woodhouse of Redwood City took the contract for the Oak Avenue job. It'll be resurfaced from Olive Street to a point near Brandon Way. The D&W bid was $2148 and Smith had a $2153.40 figure.

Fourth bid award Tuesday night went to Mallot, Peterson and Grundy of San Francisco for resurfacing asphalt at Hillview and Burgess Park tennis courts with light surface and color seal.

The Council also:

city planning commission ap-

—Heard several appeals of proval of a use permit allowing a child care operation at 109 Middle Ave. They requested a written report from the commission and set June 25 for a hearing.

—Okayed purchase of a $1500 lot adjoining Kelly Park in Belle Haven as an addition to the park. The lot is small but was being made available for residential development, City Manager John R. Johnson said.

—Heard Johnson estimate that sales tax income for the fiscal year now ending may hit $315,000. It is already at $290,000 with one more payment still due, he said.

—Hired the Redwood City auditing firm of Pearson and Del Prete to conduct the annual audit here for this fiscal year. The fee will not exceed $1,250, according to the agreement.

William Patrick Scott, 17, Stanford University student whose home is in San Francisco, suffered apparently minor injuries early Sunday when a car he was driving plunged into the San Francisquito creek bed.

Boys' Club Seeking Volunteer Aid

Volunteers to help at development headquarters of the Menlo Park Boys' Club are still being sought, according to Ed O'Neill, managing director.

A headquarters volunteer chairman anad volunteer office workers experienced in typing, stenciling, mimeographing, telephone contact work and general clerical work can render a real service to community betterment through establishment of the Boys' Club of Menlo Park.

Boys' Club headquarters are at 634 Menlo Ave., Menlo Park. The telephone: 322-6255.

New Charges In Police Injury Accident

Charges against Rueben Hernandez, 26, asserted to be the driver of an auto which early Sunday hit a police car operated by Atherton Officer Robert Cawley, were changed to include drunken driving as the result of a blood test.

Atherton Police Chief Leroy Hubbard said yesterday charges against Hernandez now include drunken driving, speeding, and driving without an operator's license.

★ ★ ★ ★

An Atherton police officer is in Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital this week, recovering from chest and back injuries suffered when the patrol car he was operating was struck in the rear by another vehicle early Sunday.

Officer Robert Cawley was stopped for a left turn from the southbound lanes of El Camino Real at Maple Avenue at 12:05 a.m. Sunday, when his car was hit by one operated by Ruben Hernandez, 26, of Redwood City. Hernandez was booked at the county jail for reckless driving and driving without a license.

In the patrol car with Officer Cawley was a reserve officer, David Mace. He was not injured.

A passenger in the car driven by Hernandez — the car's legal owner, according to Atherton police — was not injured either. He was not identified.

Cawley, who has been on the Atherton police force for the past four years, is 34. He resides at 780 Bradford St. in Redwood City.

Atherton Police Chief Leroy Hubbard said Monday that he had been told by physicians that Cawley may be hospitalized for between one and two weeks.

Hernandez, police said, is a Mexican national and has never owned a driver's license.

Meet Tonight:

Board Mulls Successor as Larsen Quits Woodside Schools

The Woodside Elementary School Board will hold a special meeting at 8:30 tonight to discuss plans for replacing the school district's superintendent, Lester M. Larsen.

Larsen will take over as superintendent of the Belmot Elementary School District on July 1 after serving the single-school Woodside district for the past five years. The Belmont district has six schools.

"My five years here have been profitable and enjoyable in many ways," Larsen commented this week. "Certainly Woodside parents are interested in their children, which makes the job of education easier."

Larsen was to have been feted last night at a special party at the Woodside home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank J. Losey. The farewell was planned by the district's PTA and teachers' association.

In his step up the administrative ladder, the 50-year-old Larsen leaves Woodside as the school is in the midst of an expansion program. Five classrooms and boys and girls dressing rooms are now under construction, with Aug. 15 set as target date for completion.

Larsen's new appointment is expected to be confirmed on June 17 by the Belmont school board. He succeeds Dr. Charles S. Knight, who last April was named superintendent of the Cupertino Union School District in Santa Clara County.

Larsen, whose contract still had two years to run, has a salary of $12,500 a year in Woodside. It's anticipated he'll draw a salary comparable to the $15-, 500 received by Dr. Knight at Belmont.

Now a resident of Los Altos, Larsen came to Woodside after serving two years as principal at Tierra Linda School in San Carlos. He had also been principal of the Central School during his nine years in the San Carlos school system.

The departing superintendent graduated from the University of Washington in 1939. He was secretary of the YMCA in Bellingham, Wash., immediately following university.

Student Hurt In Fall Here

A student residing in an apartment here was seriously injured late Tuesday, when he fell 14 feet from a balcony and landed on his face on a cement deck near a swimming pool.

He was being treated for internal injuries and facial cuts at Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital.

Injured was Kent Huston, 24, 842 Coleman Ave.

Police said he and his roommate, plus another student who resides nearby, were celebrating the completion of final examinations.

DEPARTING EDUCATOR . . . . Lester Larsen surveys new school construction in Woodside on eve of new job as head of Belmont Elementary School District. Larsen has been superintendent of the Woodside Elementary School District for the past five years. His duties in Belmont begin July 1.

County, City Compromise on Library Fund

Board of supervisors Tuesday afternoon approved a recommendation of the county manager to increase the allocation to the Menlo Park library the sum of $7653.

This was worked out as a compromise between the county manager, the city manager, and the board of library trustees and was described to the supervisors as "a compromise satisfactory to everyone."

Previous recommendations would drastically have cut county support to the local library, which is supported by city taxes as well as by county taxes.

A letter from the League of Women Voters, expressing the hope that the county supervisors take another look at proposals to cut the county's contribution, was read into the record.

Menlo Park library board members had objected that any drastic cut in the county's support of the local library was unjustified, since the library here draws 40 per cent of its patronage from unincorporated areas.

Residents of these areas do not pay city taxes for support of the facility.

Annual Award:

Roger Allen Is Named Winner Of Burgess Citizenship Prize

Roger Allen, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Allen of 211 Haight St., Tuesday was awarded the Charles P. Burgess Citizenship Award, at the annual awards assembly at Menlo-Atherton High School.

The $100 prize honors the memory of the late Charles P. Burgess, councilman and mayor of Menlo Park who died in 1957. This is the seventh annual presentation.

Allen, who has been a member of the staff of the school's newspaper, "Bear Tracks," for the past four years, served as the paper's editor and as commissioner of publications during the past year.

He plans to enter San Jose State College and major in journalism.

Besides his activities on the school paper, he has maintained a B-plus academic average and has been a member of the school's wrestling team for the past four years. He has also been active in school drama productions.

He is a graduate of Menlo Oaks school, having gone through grade school in the Ravenswood School District.

The award was presented by City Manager John R. Johnson.

The fund from which the annual prize is drawn is made up of voluntary contributions made by city employees and friends of Burgess. Contributions to it are welcome at any time, the city manager added.

Burgess is given credit for spearheading many innovations in Menlo Park government including establishment of "professional administrative" zones, offstreet parking, and the city manager form of government developed here.

Council Eyes Survey On Housing

Menlo Park City Councilmen have been asked to get behind a local survey of alleged housing discrimination against racial minorities.

The request, made by a representative of the United Church Women, was placed in the hands of City Manager John R. Johnson for study. It came before the council at their regular meeting on Tuesday night.

Councilman Ire Bonde said he'd like to know more about the organization and learn how many of its members are from this city.

The request came in the form of a letter from Mrs. Ruth Mauldin, 131 Erica Way, Portola Valley, who is secretary of the group.

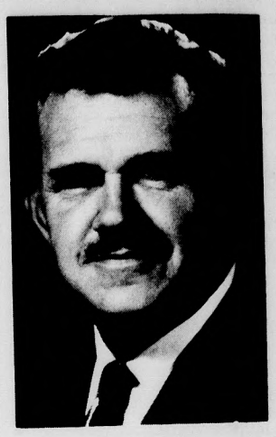

In her letter, she said the United Church Women had commended the Palo Alto City Council for initiating a discrimination study — and recommended that the Menlo Park council get behind a similar effort.

The recommendations came at a meeting of 128 members representing 17 churches, Mrs. Mauldin wrote.

'HONEST MISTAKE'

The firemen were called to an apartment at 245 El Camino Real Friday evening, when patrons of a beer hall downstairs mistook smoke from a fire in a trash burner for a blaze which might burn the building down.

Otto Dietrich Leaves Menlo After 15 Years

OTTO DIETRICH

Otto R. Dietrich has been appointed dean of boys of the Judson School, Scottsdale, Arizona, according to an announcement made by the school's director, Henry C. Wick.

For the past 15½ years, Dietrict has been assistant headmaster and dean of the school division of Menlo School and College.

The Judson School is a coeducational, college preparatory boarding and day school from kindergarten through the 12th grade.

Menlo Park Council Moves To Set Up Drainage District

Menlo Park has started to move ahead on a drainage district which will be associated with the big East Palo Alto storm water system.

City Engineer Edwin Smith is beginning work on the spread of assessments for a project in the O'Connor Street-Euclid Avenue area which will hook into the East Palo Alto system.

He reported on the start of activity to the Menlo Park City Council Tuesday night.

When the city withdrew this small area from the proposed East Palo Alto district more than a year ago, the council agreed that they would support creation of a smaller district which could tap the bigger system and pay a $17,000 connection fee.

Smith now estimates that total cost of the Menlo Park project will be about $25,000. If the city contributes 10 per cent the remaining $22,500 would be collected by assessment.

Smith briefly outlined his plans for the system. O'Connor and Euclid will be provided with three-feet-wide surface gutters as will a small portion of Woodland at the end of Euclid.

Water from these streets will flow by gravity to the intersection of O'Connor and Euclid. A collecter line from the East Palo Alto system will pick it up there, Smith said.

Because of the work involved in spreading the assessments, the city may not be able to get hearings set until after July 1, City Attorney John Jorgenson said.

Smith said that the East Palo Alto system contractor will be working "well into the fall . . . We will probably be done with this project before he is."

Presbyterian 'Outreach' Program Here

A further outreach in evangelism is planned by the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church Department of Evangelism throu partment of Evangelism through the board of deacons in the Little Parishes of Menlo Park and Atherton.

It is proposed that the deacons of these parishes will visit members of the church residing in their respective areas and secure from them the names and pertinent information about any persons in their neighborhood who do not attend any church in this community and whom they would like to have invited to come to the church.

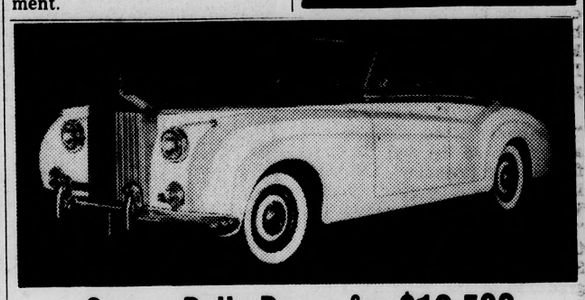

These will be listed by the deacons and given to special assigned persons who will visit them.

San Jose Man:

Ravens School District Hires Architect to Plan New Unit

Kal H. Porter, San Jose architect, has been assigned to develop the proposed million-dollar Ravenswood City School District school facilities construction program.

District trustees made the announcement Monday night at their regular board meeting. It followed a personnel session devoted to discussion of several architectural firms.

This will be the first local school project in many years which has not been designed by the Menlo Park firm of Janssen, Daseking and Keller.

The Porter organization has been responsible for many of the school designs in the sprawling Cupertino School District. Trustees recently visited the Nelson Dilworth School there, designed by the San Jose firm.

It was part of an extensive tour of new bay area schools during which trustees took a look at the work of various architects.

The motion made by trustee Wesley Pomedoy appointed the Porter firm to do the planning for the whole proposed construction program.

This includes a 12-room school between Costano and Brentwood Schools, a multi-use building and associated facilities at Garden Oaks School, addition of shower, locker and kitchen areas at Menlo Oaks School multi-use building, and library additions at Belle Haven, Costano, Kavanaugh and Brentwood Schools.

Since the voters must first approve the program by means of an October bond election, trustees have authorized Supt. of Schools Roderic V. Moore to apply for a no-interest federal planning loan.

The loan money would finance the Porter firm's preliminary planning explorations which will lay the foundation for more intensive work if the public approves the project.

If voters disapprove, the federal loan would not have to be repayed.

Trustees were ready to approve resolutions to apply for the loan but technical difficulties cropped up. They will act on the resolutions at the July 1 board meeting.

A resolution officially setting the election date as Oct. 8 will also be ready by that time, Moore said..

Voters will be asked to authorize sale of bonds totalling about $850,000. The authorization will enable the district to bond itself to legal capacity — thus opening the door to state loans for school facility construction with no local increase in taxes, Moore has pointed out.

The state also bases its formula for construction loans on the number of housing units being constructed in a school district at or near to the time of the election.

Craig Snasdell, assistant superintendent for businss services, kept the board up to date on local construction trends — and found them moving steadily upward.

As of May 31, there were a total of 651 housing units — most of them apartments — under construction and as yet unoccupied in the school district. This boils down to state loan eligibility for 40,000 square feet of schoolroom space.

The district administration has estimated that 37,000 square feet of school construction will be sufficient to complete the program as proposed.

Fremont School Slates Plays In Spanish

Fremont School third, fourth, fifth and sixth graders presented Spanish language plays Tuesday night at the Fremont multi-use room.

Classes participating included Mrs. Brenda Clark's third grade, presenting "Roberto Conejo"; Mrs. Lisbeth Sewyck's third graders presented "El Pollito," "Los Tres Osos" and "La Gallina Roja."

Fourth grade classes of Mrs. Helen Ahlenius presented "Poncho."

Students from Ralph Norris' sixth grade class, under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Killingsworth, presented "El Muchachoy EI Chivo."

A demonstration lesson was given by Spanish teacher Rudolph Skoczylas. He used students from Mrs. Jean Givens' and Bert Norall's fifth grade classes.

Members of the various acting groups also sang songs in Spanish, as a part of the program.

Vacation Bible School Scheduled

"Christ's Way, My Way" will be the theme of the Vacation Bible School of the First Baptist Church of Menlo Park scheduled to open for two weeks, from June 17 through June 28.

The time will be 9 a.m. to 12 noon every weekday. Featured will be Bible stories, missionary stories, singing, handcrafts, recreation, and refreshments every day.

Mrs. Helen Wong, church chairman of children's work, will be the director of the Bible school. Free bus transportation will be available.

The school welcomes all children from kindergarten age sixth grade, 5 years through 12 years of age. A nominal registration fee will cover the two-week period and help defray expenses. Further information may be had by calling 323-9247. The church is situated at Middle Avenue and Arbor Road in Menlo Park.

Dwight Adams Heads Officers

STANFORD — Dwight B. Adams of Menlo Park, Stanford University business manager, has been elected vice-president of the Western Association of College and University Business Officers for 1963-64.

In this post he will serve as program coordinator for the April, 1964, conference of the association at Colorado Springs. Association members include business officers of colleges and universities in 11 western states, Hawaii, Alaska, and the Canadian provinces of British Columbia and Alberta.

Adams joined the Stanford staff in 1946 after wartime service in the Navy. Earlier he taught in Oregon high schools. He is a graduate of Willamette University.

Friedman Fund Is Underway

Three Parent-Teacher representatives this week called attention to the educational trust fund set up on behalf of Leanne and Laurie Friedman, East Palo Alto girls whose parents died in a recent auto accident.

Mrs. T. R. McMillen, Ravenswood High president, and Mrs. George Treat, outgoing PTA president at Menlo-Atherton, joined with incoming M-A unit leader Mrs. Lyman Wear in making the announcement.

Contributions to it may be made payable to Educational Trust Fund and sent to Alan Strain, 369 Wayside Road, Portola Valley, who is the trustee. Leanne is a Ravenswood High senior and Laurie is a freshman at Pacific High School.

What Is It?

'Measuring Laughter' Topic Of Experiment by Psychiatrist

The acquisition of new information about human behavior by classifying laughter responses is the goal of a new project by Dr. William Fry, of Menlo Park, practicing psychiatrist and research associate in the Mental Research Institute of the Palo Alto Medical Research Foundation.

Dr. Fry, 1050 University Drive, has just been awarded $3500 from the small grant program of the National Institute of Mental Health for "A Classification of Emotive Laughter Response."

The NIMH small grant program is designed to encourage research in the behavioral, biological and medical sciences relevant to mental health. The grants are made for pilot or exploratory studies to determine the feasibility of projects of larger scope.

Dr. Fry defines "emotive laughter response" as the human behavior resulting from the sensations of humor, amusement and mirth. This is distinct from laughter associated with other emotional states such as embarrassment, fear or anger.

Dr. Fry believes that a classification of emotive laughter will have particular significance in several major areas.

Among these is the scientific application of the tension-releasing aspects of human laughter, because emotive laughter springs from humor, one of man's basic adautive mechanisms. If it is feasible to measure this emotive laughter response, it might be possible to use the results in clinical and experimental personailty evaluation procedures.

The project will begin this summer and continue for a year.

Dr. Fry will employ an interdisciplinary approach in his study. Dr. Edith Trager ,associate professor of English, San Jose State College, has been retained as linguistics consultant.

Dr. Fry has also enlisted the interest of Dr. Charles L. Yeager, director of the electroencephalographic laboratory at the Langley Porter Neuropsychiatric Institute, and Dr. Noel P. Thompson, chief of the medical electronics division at the Foundation, both of whom will serve as medical electronics consultants.

Gregory Bateson will serve as consultant in communications.

Woodside School Will Get New Playground Land

The way has been cleared this week for the purcrase of 3.5 acres to enlarge the grounds of the Woodside Elementary School.

Purchase price of the acreage adjoining the school property to the west is $58,500, according to the school's superintendent, Lester Larsen. He said the school district will be able to take immediate possession of the property.

Handling purchase negotiations is Deputy District Attorney Howard Gawthrop.

The additional land will be used as a playground area.

Oak Knolls Pupils Fete Principal With Presents

Grateful students at Oak Knoll School yesterday presented Principal Richard Johnston with some "going away" presents, as he prepared to leave the district for a new administrative post at Buellton.

The presentation consisted of a walnut humidor, two pipes and a pipe lighter and also a sabre saw, which the students allow will be useful Johnson in his new home.

Lynnette Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of 1745 Oak Ave. and Laura Taylor, daughter of the William F. Taylors of 1298 Bay Laurel Drive, collected the money for the presents

Occasion for the presentation was the regular annual awards assembly at the school.

As We See It:

More Dense Housing Not Appropriate—Yet

Last week, Menlo Park city council agreed to take a stand against a proposal to erect high density housing in an unincorporated area between Menlo Park and Atherton. The development would have included so-called "town houses" in the form of two-story dwellings with common walls.

The council was right to so object. Menlo Park and Atherton, as of today, certainly aren't ready to have such a "citified" development planted in their midst.

But pressure for such developments, or others more obnoxious, can be expected in the future.

Several things are at work to assure the latter.

First, there's the rising value of land. In the olden tyme, a person expected to buy a large lot. Land was cheap; he wanted privacy and was willing to pay a sum which in those days was pretty nominal, to get it. Nowadays the average real estate buyer is willing to compromise on this. He may not be able to afford a big lot in town and doesn't want to live in the country, so he buys a smaller lot.

Then, there's the change in peoples' tastes. Believe it or not, a short 15 or 20 years ago the only kind of people who moved to Menlo Park were those interested in buying single-family homes. They liked the area because it looked like a nice one in which to raise children, have gardens, and generally indulge in suburban living.

But that pattern changed. With the building-up of single-family residential land and the growing value of land in general, apartment building became the vogue. And it was found that lessees could be recruited who had no interest in gardening, who were willing to pay a premium for living "down town," and who were willing to pay somebody else to do the upkeep of the establishment.

It is possible that if we extend this recruiting, we can find people who are willing – nay, glad – to live in even more restrictive establishments.

Or we can work out some sort of an alternative – such as this "town house" proposal would seem to be – in which we can cram more family living units into a smaller space.

We can see the trends, but we don't like them.

Time Will Tell Wisdom Of Road Bond Defeat

Last week, a perfectly reasonable streets and highways bond proposition failed to get approval of the voters in San Mateo county.

Last year, an equally reasonable tax proposal of the Menlo Park Elementary School District failed to get voter approval, and a cut-down measure had to be substituted earlier this year, before passage was possible.

Up and down the state the same thing is happening, as more people come to feel that they can't spend another dime in taxes.

Unfortunately, the larger the government subdivision levying the taxes, the more remote it is and the less likely to change its policies because of public pressure.

So while the federal government continues to tax and tax and spend and spend, the local political entities get their incomes regulated by the voters.

On the state level, even, the tide is turning. As this is written there still has been no decision on how the state is going to go about raising additional money to see it through the next year.

There's a lesson in this. There is a limit to the percentage of income most people will allow tax-supported agencies to take.

But before we denounce the "government spenders," let's take an honest look at ourselves.

Are we not forever demanding more governmental goods and services, including everything from modern defense hardware for the nation, to new recreation programs for the tots? Are we not willing to let government pay out the pensions, rather than maintain our parents in our own homes? And how many of us here are employed, either directly or indirectly, in defense industries or governmental establishments?

It's a problem. If you're going to cut taxes, you've got to give up some of the things you're used to, or forget about some of the services you think you want.

It's a matter of deciding where the cuts are to be made.

If you take this long look, you'll probably find that mistakes have been made in the past, in cutting the support for some programs, while maintaining support for others.

Education, for instance, is usually a pretty good bargain. Among other things it aims at, is the fact that it brings knowledge to people which might enrich them personally, and their learned skills might lead to the development of new inventions and technologies which might create new jobs or even new industries.

As for roads, it's hard to tell at this point whether it was a good choice of something to do without. Only the next several years – with time wasted in traffic jams and much inconvenience – will tell us that.

A Politicians' Success Formula

Somebody once revealed the formula for becoming a successful politician:

"Vote for every appropriation and against any raise in taxes," he said.

The mathematics of this escapes us, but it certainly has made many politicians popular.

Municipal Report:

Truck Law Has Long History

George Washington is said to have said something to the effect that, if an unenforceable law is passed, the best way to get it repealed is to insist upon its most rigid enforcement.

Presumably, the idiocy of the law will then be revealed, and if the governing body which passed the law in the first place remains unimpressed by this display, better heads will prevail.

Thus it is that the city of Palo Alto's truck ordinance is now under fire. The action to get it repealed might well become more insistent, if the ordinance isn't modified in the near future.

Menlo Park is drawn into the thing, naturally, because Menlo Park two months ago adopted an "emergency" truck ordinance, to keep large carriers from using local streets while servicing Palo Alto business and industry.

June 5, some truck operators —namely, those of the Engineering and Grading Contractors Association—decided to do something about it.

They sent word to Menlo Park that some of their big vehicles were going to enter Menlo Park, via Middlefield Road, from Palo Alto.

This would put them onto a section of the street where trucks of over three tons' gross weight would be forbidden.

The city, they announced, had the option of either citing the truck drivers, or explaining the new ordinance to them and asking them to turn around.

The result is well known.

A delegation of Menlo Park officers was on hand to recite the alternatives to the truck drivers, in time, form and manner required by law.

The truck drivers who were in on this elected to turn around.

Turning large trucks about in a narrow street requires a lot of skill and a certain amount of time and before the show was over, the drivers had generated a pretty magnificent series of traffic jams.

They managed to time their show with the morning commute rush, so the maximum number of citizens at large would be impressed.

The truck operators who were in on the show were all from the Palo Alto area and it was the arbiters of Palo Alto policy who they wanted to impress.

Palo Alto's truck ordinance calls for no cross traffic from Bayshore Highway to El Camino Real from San Francisquito Creek to San Antonio Road.

The framers of this bit of legislative insipidity figured that other "through" traffic could go through Menlo Park, including that which serves downtown Palo Alto.

But street maintenance and police problems occur in Menlo Park as well as Palo Alto and the Menlo Park council adopted its ordinance.

As Mayor William Lawson put it at the time, "trucks are essential to our way of life" and "all of us should shoulder our responsibilities in this matter."

Many Palo Alto truck operators apparently feel that the Palo Alto ordinance is too costly to them to be allowed to continue to be in effect, so they've taken George Washington's dictum to heart.

Besides setting the stage for massive traffic jams while doing nothing illegal—in fact, while complying to the letter of the law—they have other weapons in their arsenal.

The writer recalls an early truck ordinance in Palo Alto—some 25 years ago or so—which forbade certain classes of vehicles from using Embarcadero Road.

Large oil trucks were among the vehicles prohibited.

Palo Alto at that time maintained in operation a diesel-powered electrical generating plant.

So whenever the fuel-delivery truck brought more oil to the power house, it's owner telephoned city hall and insisted that its driver be cited.

A bill for the fine which eventually had to be paid was attached to the bill for the oil, and both were then forwarded to the city functionary charged with paying such things.

The fine was a "cost of doing business" which was legitimately passed along.

If unhappy enough, truckers might well do the same thing in regard to commercial establishments.

They can drive over "forbidden" streets in either Menlo Park or Palo Alto, insist on being cited for the "transgression" and pass the fine along to the merchant to whom they are delivering goods.

Either that, or they can send their trucks to any destination they see fit, using the legal but roundabout routes prescribed by the municipal governments involved, carefully calculating tonmiles and passing the cost along to the customer, with a proper notation as to the reason for the added cost.

This ought to bring considerable clamor to the ears of the framers of over-restrictive truck traffic laws.

Of course, both of the above schemes require that all truckers work together, and there's the competitive element which might modify this.

Somebody, for instance, is sure to think of a scheme for breaking loads down to a point where they can be delivered by trucks weighing three gross tons or less, and somebody else will figure out a set of routes where he can stay legal, but put in a lower bid for a trucking job than those who are complaining.

Assuming, as we must, that Menlo Park's new truck ordinance is "defensive," it's necessary that both Menlo Park and Palo Alto will have to negotiate for the modification of the trucking laws, to assure the greatest good for the greatest number.

Sticking to George Washington's dictum, the truck operators are reasonably likely to be able to show that the present ordinances are unworkable when considered together.

'Civil Defense' Equipment Assembled

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that, 25 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community.

June 10, 1938:

At 6 p.m. Wednesday, called by an emergency signal of 10 blasts on the fire siren, Legionnaires began pouring into the firehouse to register and within a couple of hours with the cooperation of the fire and police departments, Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Ladies' Auxiliary the following had registered:

American Legion Post 443, 50 members, 53 cars, nine trucks.

Ladies' Auxiliary, 18 members, 10 cars.

Veterans at large, 60.

Boy Scouts, 12 members and equipment.

Red Cross, three members including chairman and equipment.

Fire department and first aid station, 19 members, five trucks, four cars, two radio equipped.

Police department, four members, cars and motorcycle, radio equipped.

Water company — gas company, full equipment, one ambulance and all equipment.

Education Still the Big Expense in Calif. Economy

By ASSEMBLYMAN CARL A. BRITSCHGI
26th District, California State Legislature

Public education gets the lion's share of our California state and local tax dollar. This has been true for many years, and is likely to continue for the foreseeable future.

More than $1.3 billion is allocated by the pending budget bill for operations and capital outlay of the public school system, the University, and the state colleges. This is 42 per cent of the total state budget, but 60 per cent of the general fund is absorbed by education.

As a natural result of the importance of this one function, a great many bills relating to education are introduced in every regular session. This one is no exception — about 10 per cent of all bills put over the desk in both houses are concerned with educational matters.

Their topics range from kindergarten to graduate study, from student parking fees to college scholarships.

The biggest educational problems at every session, regular or budget, are the total amount of state money which will be granted to local school districts, and the formula by which it will be parceled out.

The usual controversy over these matters arose early in our deliberations this year, and has been simmering on the back of the stove for some weeks. Since adjournment is just around the corner, the cooking is now being speeded up, and a tentative result may be produced before you read this.

The administration budgetary proposal calls for some $834 million to be allocated to school districts during the coming year. This is an increase of $78 million over the current year.

Of this addition, $48 million would be for growth in number of pupils, $30 million for upping state aid generally.

An important part of the proposal is one for a new school property tax, to be levied on a county-wide basis, intended to "equalize" tax resources between rich and poor school districts in the same county. This is estimated to raise some $25 million per year, on a statewide basis.

In opposition to this program is that supported by major educational organizations (including teachers) and the State Board of Education. As originally introduced, the bill containing this program called for changes in the allocation formula which would increase state aid by $100 million per year, and also for the new equalizing property tax.

It was apparent that this program could throw the state budget out of balance, so the main bill was accompanied by others to levy a 1 per cent tax on groceries for education and to put up the cigaret eax by 2 cents per pack.

Recently, the main bill in this program was amended by its author to cut back some of the increases first proposed, and to delay others for a year. Informed observers guesstimate that these changes would reduce the $100 million increase to about $52 million per year, which still is higher than the administration proposal.

As this is written, both allocation bills are due to face the Assembly Ways and Means Committee at the same time.

The survivor, with whatever changes are adopted, will then have to pass the Assembly and go through the Senate.

About the only thing which can safely be said now, is that the new equalizing property tax seems to have a good chance for enactment into law.

LIKES OUR CHILDREN

Editor, the Recorder:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the good people of Menlo Park and Atherton for the fine cooperation and help I have received during the past two years as school bus driver for the Menlo Park School District, and, as Greyhound's contract will not be renewed this coming school year, it is with regret that I leave this wonderful area.

It's been a great experience, which I shall long remember, and a most rewarding one in the happy memory of the many young smiling faces I always encountered in my work.

Julio Fernandez

————o————

Editor, the Recorder:

I have just read a most asinine statement in an editorial in another Peninsula newspaper. That the South San Mateo County Disposal District is dumping its taxes and users must stand the full costs of dump operations. This is right back where we started before the district was formed.

This paper calls this policy of operation simple and sound.

What about the principal that the cost of what benefits the community as a whole should be shared by all of its members?

When the District was first formed both Menlo Park and Atherton were reluctant to join because it would raise taxes slightly.

City Councilman Ira Bonde, now a member of the district board of directors, said at the time that he didn't use the dump himself and didn't see why everyone should have to pay taxes on it.

What does he do with his grass cuttings, tree trimmings, and other rubbish? Stack it on the ground and burn it on Sunday mornings while the wind carries the smog and stench into his neighbor's houses?

You can sure see a lot of these smoldering smog making piles throughout Menlo Park and Atherton almost every weekend. Why don't these smog makers use the dump and stop polluting the air? They should at least be required to use incinerators for burning.

In the same line of Mr. Bonde's and the other newspaper's thinking: Why should people without children or who send their children to private schools have to pay taxes for public schools? Why should people who never litigate have to pay their share for the support of our courts? Why should people who don't use our city and county parks, libraries, etc. have to pay for them? I could go on and on.

I think that the cost of what is available for benefit of the whole community should be shared by the community even though everybody doesn't use it.

Menlo Police Club Displays Power Hitting

The Menlo Park Police Athletic League club opened its second season last week with a busy schedule, winning two of five contests.

The squad is operating on an independent basis this year. It has been withdrawn from the Peninsula Police Athletic League and is primarily meeting American Legion clubs.

Four of the games were closies, but the other was a 25-1 run-away over the Woodside PAL club.

First two contests were played against Santa Clara Legion at Flood Park on Memorial Day. The locals nabbed the first one, 5-4, and dropped the second by a 5-0 score.

In the first game, Dave Armstrong was the winning hurler for Menlo Park. He had batting support from Mark Malony and Gus Bayle, who had a pair of bingles apiece, and from Dan Harrington, who doubled. Bill Morrow was the loser.

Harrington was the hurler of record for the Menlo Parkers in the second game as Bill Sansom of Santa Clara limited the local batters to three hits.

The Woodside-Menlo Park fiasco was played at Flood Park on Wednesday of last week. Harrington recorded a two-hitter and his mates teed off on Woodside pitchers. Bayle crashed four hits and four men had three hits each—Bill Bonnet, Armstrong, Jim Baynes and Bill Loefler. Bonnet homered, Loefler tripled and Armstrong doubled during the course of the game.

Another double-header came last Sunday — and the locals weren't quite as successful. They lost 5-1 and 5-4 to the San Mateo American Legion.

The first one was a great pitcher's duel between Mike Noonan of San Mateo, who tossed a no-hitter, and Armstrong, who didn't give up a hit in four innings before retiring with an arm injury.

At that point, Menlo Park led 1-0. Gus Bayle had scored in the fourth after walking and taking advantage of Noonan's error. When Jeff Cudworth replaced Armstrong in the fifth, San Mateo touched him for six hits and five runs in three innings.

San Mateo broke a 0-0 deadlock in the fifth inning, getting one run on a single and three errors. They sent three runs home in the eighth during a rally which included a two-run triple by Bill McCartney.

The eventual winning run was scored in the ninth by Bob Nelson who singled and scored on another hit.

Adobe Post Team Starts On Right Foot

Menlo Adobe Post 828 launched its American Legion baseball wars by edging Hayward Post 68 4-3 and splitting a weekend double header with Los Altos, in exhibition games.

Adobe coach Frank Bettencourt, recently selected Coach of the Year for guiding Menlo-Atherton to a surprising second place in the South Peninsula Athletic League baseball chase, experimented in the three-game stretch, using five different pitchers.

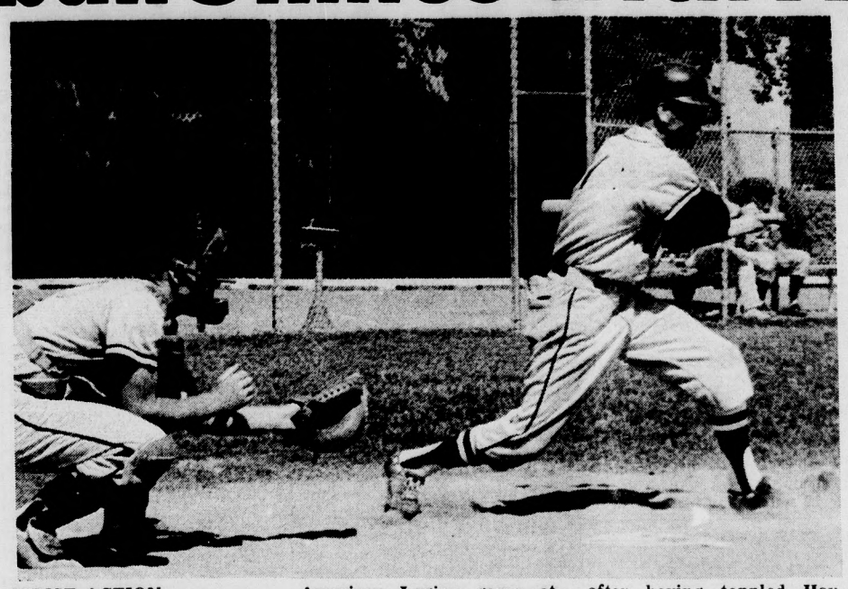

June 5, Mark Ackerman worked six innings for the win, and Ernie Berg slapped a run scoring single in the sixth inning to settle the Hayward contest at Burgess Field. Berg earlier drove across two runs with another single. Willie Christiansen had the fourth RBI for Adobe, who was outhit 10-4.

Saturday, Los Altos invaded Burgess, and walked into an Adobe home run barrage and a 13-8 setback. Rod Pommes walloped a three-run shot in the first, Mike Curtis hit a two-run homer in the third as did winning pitcher John Hofferd in the fourth.

Hofferd, who tossed the first six innings, had three hits, while his mound relief Berg had two. Pommes added a double to his homer.

Sunday, Post 828 dropped a 7-5 decision at Los Altos High School. Jeff Finley went the route for the winners, with Dick Burrill picking up the loss for Menlo. Mike Gallo had three hits and three RBI's for Los Altos with Hofferd and Burrill each having a pair of safeties for Menlo. Dennis Ojeda pitched the final three innings for Menlo, after tossing a scoreless three against Hayward.

The Menlo nine plays Millbrae in a twin-bill this weekend. The first game will be 2 p.m. Saturday at Mills High School in San Mateo, with Sunday's contest being played at Burgess Field, also at 2 p.m.

WRIST ACTION . . . . . Steve Jarvis lines a single through the box in Adobe Post 828's 11-8 victory over Los Altos in an exhibition American Legion game at Burgess Field Saturday. Frank Bettencourt's Adobe batmen split a weekend doubleheader with Los Altos after having toppled Hayward in the year's opening game. Jarvis is just one of several power hitters on the Post 828 team.

Courter, Gibson Sparkle in B. R. Race

All-purpose Cris Courter and the Menlo Mufflers brought Flegels down to earth Saturday 11-10 for the home furnishers' first loss of the year in the Menlo Park Babe Ruth pennant run.

Courter was not only the winning pitcher in the 28-hit donnybrook (Flegels had 17), but had a grand-slam home run in addition to his game-deciding bases-loaded triple in the eighth inning.

Flegels remained one-half game ahead of Johnson & Mape in the National League as Bill McMonigle hurled a one-hit 3-0 victory over Pen-Litho and Colby Howe stopped Rex, the American League leaders, on just four hits forf a 5-0 win.

Lindsay's Danny Gibson struck out 20, a phenomenal 16 coming in a row, as he throttled Fox & Carskadon 17-1 on just one hit. Gibson's astonishing effort was aided by four RBI's by Mike Ricaud and three by Art Edge.

Danny belted two home runs for all of Lindsay's tallies in a 6-3 losing contest to Pen Litho. Ron Gugliemetti garnered the pitching win.

Johnson & Mapes' Ron Starr struck out nine in a 6-1 win over Rex, aiding his own cause with a double. The Rexman posted their lone win of the week with a 9-2 decision over Pen Litho. John Browning and Dave Young each had a pair of hits for the victors.

Lowe stayed one game off Rex' heels with an 8-2 win over Hare, Brewer and Kelley. Peter Moy was the winning moundsman and was supported by Rich DeZur with three hits and fives runs batted across. Scott Snedeker also had three base blows for Lowes as did Terry Gilmore for the losers.

Bohannon steamrolled Lowe 19-3, as Gary Hamilton had two hits, including a bases-loaded homer, and winning hurler Dave Jefferson three hits and a bases-clearing triple for Bohannon. Harold Spaulding — not to feel left out — banged out three hits and had five RBI's.

Johnson & Mapes gave Lowe a 3-2 grazing on the chin as Mark Skrabo bested Scott Snedeker in a pitcher's duel. Hank Needham and Tony Ramirez each hit safely twice for Johnson & Mapes.

Improving Fox & Carskadon handed Johnson & Mapes its first setback in a 10-9 squeaker. Gary Harms was a one-man show for the winners, gaining credit for the pitching victory and getting three hits, including a triple and a three-run homer. Needham had four RBI's in a losing effort.

Red Cottage stymied the Menlo Mufflers 14-4, behind the four-hit pitching of Gary Ott. Ward Walkup of the Cottagemen had a double and a triple among his four hits. Walkup had three RBI's and Vic Musy a two-run homer as Red Cottage defeated Fox & Carkskadon 16-10. Harms again paced the losers with a home run with two aboard.

Hare, Brewer and Kelley received three RBI's and a six-hitter from Judd Jessup in a 7-2 win over Crosby and Diegelman, and then posted a 16-7 win over Red Cottage as Bob Wilhelm yielded eight hits and Jessup banged home four runs on two hits.

In the week's wildest, tightest battle, Crosby and Diegelman nipped Lindsay 13-12, as the winners' Joe Moreing stole three bases and scored four runs. Edge had three solid hits and Danny Gibson and Herman Munill two each for Lindsay. Relief pitcher Ray Alvarez came on in the fifth for the realtors to get the win.

Dick Moldre clouted a home run and Paul Dunbar went all the way to give Crosby and Diegelman a 10-8 win over Bohannon. Byron Gon had a double and three-base hit for Bohannon, who outhit the realtors 11-6.

Ted Shreve stroked two hits for three RBI's as the Menlo Mufflers stifled Bohannon 7-2. Steve Morey was the winning pitcher, getting relief helf in the seventh.

Sport Shop 8-0:

Shreve's Stays Unbeaten

Shreve's remained unbeaten in Menlo Park American Little League activity, as ace hurlers Kerry Stewart and Mike Jauregui gave sterling performances to hike the Sport Shop's record to 8-0.

Stewart faced only 19 men in a 3-0 no-hitters over Derry's. A hit batsman and base on balls, both with the bags loaded led to two Shreve runs in the third inning. Losing pitcher Roger Kemmerle allowed just three hits.

Jauregui stopped Seybold on five hits as Shreve ran off to a 5-2 win. Dennis Zafferano had two RBI's for the winners, who split their scoring in the second and sixth innings. Gregory Sagar had the only extra-base hit for Seybold's.

Morey's took hold of second place in the American standings, with a 4-1 win over Preuss. Robert Zaro overcame a second inning home run by Tim Crocker to post the win. Morey's scored two unearned runs in the fourth and tallied twice more in the fifth. Robert Hamilton, Dan Roach and Tim Shannon each had two hits for Morey's.

Chris Connaway pitched a one-hit 8-9 shutout over Van de Sande. The Morey stalwart also batted a perfect three for three and scored three runs. Connaway and Roach belted doubles for the victors, as did Doug Morris in the second inning for the clothiers—their lone base blow.

Derry's John Kimbark gained a 1-0 win over winless Beh, despite no-hit pitching by the loser's Don Lenahan, Steve Klebe's delayed steal home after being walked in the sixth inning was the game's only run. Kimbark yielded but two hits and struck out nine to Lenahan's 14.

Another Berg — Eddie, of Van de Sande's tossed a two-hit 3-2 decision over Seybold's. Howard Walkup socked a bases-empty homer in the second, but it was Berg's single in the sixth which won the game. Dwight Janssen and Steve Vignau had Seybold RBI's in a two-run second inning.

Bill Ziebron unloaded a grand-slam home run in the first inning and Preuss continued its 15-hit attack for a 12-5 win over Beh. James Moriarity had three hits for Preuss and Jess Cavender two for Beh. It was 9-3 Preuss after the first two innings.

Preuss needed seven innings to edge obstinate Beh 3-2, as Paul Lorenzen weaved a one-hitter for the druggists. Tim Crocker cracked out a pair of hits for the winners off Cavender, who permitted only five.

Braves, Tigers Tied In Atherton

Paul Sisson unloaded a grand slam home run to ignite a five-run fifth inning as the Braves scored a comeback 6-3 win over the Tigers to throw the Atherton Little League into a tie between the two clubs.

David Andrews was the winning pitcher, striking out 12. Sisson had a pair of hits, while the Tigers' Bob Norris solved Andrews for two hits and two runs batted in.

The Tigers had earlier measured the Braves 4-1 on the one-hit pitching of Doug Collom. Pat Curtis gave Collom all the support he needed with a two-run homer. Collom, who struck out 14, gave up his lone hit to Sisson, a run scoring single in the fourth.

The Pirates and Giants locked horns, and the result was a game called 7-7 tie. Jim Sciarini belted two hits and had three RBI's while Dan McGanney collected two safeties, including a double for the Giants.

Winning hurler Mike Meagher struck out 12, walked four and aided his own cause with three RBI's as the Tigers stifled the Giants 7-2. Curtis had two RBI's on a single and home run for the Cats, while McGanney drove across one run with one of two doubles he hit off Meagher.

Andrews struck out 15 Pirates as the Braves scored three times in the top of the sixth for an 8-5 win. Charles Bradley hit safely twice and drove across two runs for the Braves.

In the week's tightest contest Curtis' wildness in the second inning spelled a 3-2 defeat for the Tigers against the Pirates.

The Bucs tallied all their runs in the second as Curtis walked Roy Hills and James Hutison with the bases loaded. Curtis and winning Buc pitcher Gavin Troster each fashioned two-hitters.

Tom Gurnee banged out a home run with the bases loaded for a five-run Giant spree in the fifth inning, and a 10-9 victory over the Braves.

Andrews and Bradley had had two hits each off Giant pitcher Mike Tittle, who got credit for the win, although needing relief help from Sciaroni in the fifth. Steve Englert socked a two-run homer and single and McGanney had two hits, one of which was a double, for the winners.

The Giants tallied 10 times in the fourth frame for a 17-5 win over the Pirates. Sciaroni was three for four and had two RBI's for the Giants.

No-Hit Ace:

Billy Herman's Pitching Kindles Kiwanis Bid for National Title

Billy Herman is the chief reason why Kiwanis is at the helm of the Menlo Park National Little League race this week. The slim right-hander fashioned no-hit, no-run and two-hit victories to keep Kiwanis' one-half game lead over Lowe's Realty in tact.

Herman's no-hitter came at the expense of the Rotary June 4. Herman struck out 14 in a 9-0 victory and had help from teammate J. C. Crivello's three hits and two RBI's.

Monday, Herman bested Joe Guell in a mound duel as Kiwanis clipped Leonard Ely 8-2. Herman fanned 13 and Guell 10, with the latter yielding but three hits. One of these, however was Lee South's two-run double in the first inning.

Guell's 14 strikeouts and Bobby Alums two run-producing doubles sparked Ely to a 5-2 win over Lowe. The Realtors stormed back Saturday to hand Kiwanis a 4-2 setback, in the latter's first league defeat. Thomas Graves whiffed nine batters and along with Carl Johnson drove in a run apiece in the first inning.

Lefty Kenny Schmitz pitched the Realtors to their first two victories of the season. June 5, he set down All-American Market 10-3 on 11 strikeouts. Schmitz went the route Monday as the Realtors scored five times in the fourth inning to halt Rotary 8-2. Paul Elder's two-run double was the big blow in the Realtors big fourth.

All-American went down again in a 5-4 thriller to Leonard Ely and winning pitcher John Stringer. The Rotary picked up its lone win of the week by tumbling the Lions 6-3. George Andrews picked up the win in a game marked by pitching wildness. Rotary scored three times in the first inning as four batters earned bases on balls.

Realtors and Lions staged a 13-13 slugfest. Eric Snedeker banged out two hits in four at bats for the Lions, with Paul Elder slamming a three-run homer for the Realtors.

Palo Alto Leads Ken's Pancakes By Two Games

Palo Alto Independents remained atop the South Peninsula Pony League with a 7-0 mark, as Randy Bangham tossed a no-hit 4-3 victory over the Palo Alto Lions Saturday. All three Lions runs came across on errors.

June 3, the Independents, behind winning pitcher Andy Wyatt, stopped Gleim Jewelers 10-6. Rip Browning collected three hits for the league leaders.

Ken's House of Pancakes remained two games back of Palo Alto with a 14-4 thumping of the Lions and a 13-3 win over the Menlo Mixers.

Ladera Lions, Minors Battle In Alpine Shows

Shutout pitching by Ron Fairbanks gave Ladera Lions a 1-0 victory over the Mustangs, thereby keeping the Lions one full game ahead of the Village Square Market in Alpine Major League baseball.

The Lions had it a little easier against Simpson Hardware, by taking an 11-5 decision for their second win of the week.

The Marketmen had home runs by Corby Linfoot and Steve Nash in a 15-4 victory over the Wildcats. Nash hit his fourbagger in the third and Linfoot followed with his blast in the fifth.

Bruce Harris was the winning hurler in a Market 14-11 win over the Hustlers.

Larry Miller picked up the win as Simpson Hardware bombed the Wildcats 12-5 and Gregg Wooley pitched the Hustlers to an 11-8 high-scoring win over the Mustangs.

The Alpine minors are in the midst of a torrid three-team battle that comes to an end Saturday when the season concludes. The Rebels are slim leaders with a 9-3-2, followed by Valley Union, 9-4-1, and Redlegs, 9-5-0.

The Rebels toppled the Greens 10-4 and Valley Union 13-7, in a big win, marked by Gary Reimer's perfect pitching for the first four innings.

Valley Union measured Hare, Brewer and Kelley 10-5 as Unionman Tony Asborno had two hits in three at-bats. Asborno had been on base nine consecutive times, before being retired on his third at-bat. Gary Reimer pitched a two-hitter

U.S. Marines Recruit Platoon Of 'Giants' for Training

Will the Giants defeat the Dodgers on June 19?

This is the question being asked by the United States Marine Corps recruiters at the San Mateo County Courthouse in Redwood City.

The recruiters in the bay area are engaged in enlisting a 75-man "Giants" platoon to leave on that date and compete with a "Dodgers" platoon now being formed in Los Angeles.

The San Francisco "Giants" platoon will be sworn in at homeplate in Candlestick Park at noon on June 19 immediately preceding the Giant-Dodger day game.

The platoons, both here and in Los Angeles, are being organized to compete with each other for the "honor platoon" title which is awarded to the outstanding recruit platoon graduating from the Marine Corps recruit depot at San Diego.

Young men from 17 to 28 years of age can contact the U.S. Marine Corps recruiting office (Emerson 8-2741) to learn more about how they can qualify for this unit.

Bowling Honors:

Menlo Postal Champs

A five-man "pick up" team from the Menlo Park branch office won honors in the 15th annual West Coast Postal Employees Bowling Tournament at Mel's Bowl in Redwood City, recently, firing a record team handicap score of 3141.

Elmer Poppen, Joe Kramer, Earl Reavis, Harvey Kuehl and Carl Dickson joined forces at the last moment to give the Menlo office an entry. A 100-team entry list, stretching from Eureka to Bakersfield, did little to scare off the local keglers, who led in scoring from the second day of activity through the fourth and final day of competition.

Their record handicap total broke the old mark of 3138 set in 1952. All five bowled well over their average, with Kuehl, a 161-average carrier, hitting a high series of 635 and a top game score of 225.

In reminiscing over his performance at Mel's, Kuehl mentioned that he went 27 frames without an open situation "Now, mention what you did the last two years," his teammates chided.

Poppen, who averages 166, had a 515 high series and a 212 top game. Dickson had the high series of 640 and the high game of 235. He averages 188. Reavis, a 161 bowler, fashioned a 534 high series and Kramer, who averages 173, rolled a high game of 202 in his 519 series.

Menlo Park finished fifth last year, reported the group, who found bowling together to be both fun and profitable. The team split $500 top prize money and another $50 for having the high scratch score of 2843.

Kuehl points out that neither of the five had bowled together as a team before the West Coast tourney. "We had to go out ourselves and round up a team," Kuehl said.

Dickson said the conditions were of only average speed. However, he managed to lay out a string of seven straight strikes.

Menlo Park didn't place in any of the individual money. Soledad was second 62 pins back of Menlo in handicap scoring and Modesto finished 31 pins behind the new team champs in scratch competition.

Reed, Miller Top Portola Tennis Entries

Northern California's more prominent singles players will be at Alpine Hills Tennis and Swim Club for Saturday's opening of the third annual Portola Valley Tennis Championships.

Whitney Reed, No. 1 singles star, who formerly held that position nationally, will compete along with 10 others who rank in the top 20 men's listings. Andria Miller, top ranked women's player in Northern California and fourth natinally in the 18years age group will be among six of the bets 12 rated women who'll display their talents at Alpine Hills.

The four-day tournament is being split over two weekends. There will also be net action Sunday, with the championship concluding June 22-23.

RECORD BREAKER . . . . . Dale McKinnon, above, senior at Menlo-Atherton high School, recently broke two significant swim records, in the Senior Development program relays at Foothill College pool. She broke the American Citizens' record and Pacific Association record for the 100-meter breaststroke, doing it in 1:22.1, against some of the country's top swimmers. She's coached by John Williams of the Palo Alto Athletic club, but is unattached to any club in her natational affiliations.

No Bears in Sight:

Trojan Spring Grid List—43

Spring football signups at Ravenswood High ended with 43 boys on the record as varsity candidates for next fall, coach Howard Costello said this week.

This does not include potential players from the new attendance area formerly served by Menlo-Atherton, he indicated.

Incidentally, Costello would like to hear from any youngsters in the new area who plan to try out for the team. They can contact him on Monday, Aug. 26, when football training begins.

Judging from the signup sheet, next year's version of the Trojan grid team won't be quite as light in the line as were past squads.

The big switch shows All-SPAL honorable mention end Mel Easley moved to a backfield post. Mel, a growing boy, now stands 6-1 and weighs 180 — and he could be a good one next year as a junior.

A veteran of last year's backfield, 175-pound Chris Kendall, will be back to lend even more beef to the usually lightweight Trojan backfield.

Other boys who'll be in there trying for backfield spots are Curtis Batts, 5-10 163-pound junior; Jim Bradley, quick 140-pound senior; Willie McGee, 155-pound junior, and Henry Price, 145-pound junior.

McGee, Price, Batts and Larry Cattuzzo, 126-pounder, are up from the frosh-soph team. Boys who signed up but who have no previous experience include Bradley, Armand Alfred, Vince Blecha, Weeton Cato, Charles Cook, Eddie Pounds and Dwight Turner.

Three boys are listed as candidates for center. They are Ken Prado, who's boosted his weight 30 pounds to 170; Don Allen, 155-pounder, and Ed Jessen, who played frosh-soph ball and tips the scales at 205.

The guard department appears to be well stocked next season. Four boys with varsity experience will be back. They are Rick Deutscher, 175, switched from the backfield; Matt Lark, 175; Tony Langton, 150, and Brad Vermillion, 155.

In addition, promising Roger Raynal (145) and Russ Chambers (170) will be up from the frosh-soph club. Boys with experience who signed up include Tom Hardman, 155; Bill Perkins, 175; Terry Satre, 170, and Gary Winland, 200.

At the tackles, experienced Rick Litteral (190) and Mike Simon (185) are the apparent top hands. However, juniors Francis Benetua (190) and Gary Clark (190), both frosh-soph graduates, could make themselves known. Mike Tsujimoto (178) and L. T. Smith (195) are candidates, too.

With Easley gone from one end, only Ron Ban (170) has a lot of varsity experience at this position. Steve Guarino (162) did see some varsity action

They include 6-3 Mike Black (170), 6-1 Herman Fitzhugh (150), 6-2 Rick Crawford (155), 5-11 Arthur Harris (165), and 5-11 Tony Scott (150).

John Dewey is the only quarterback with a varsity background. He's a 135-pounder.

Rec Department Forms 'Teen Club

Starting Monday, June 17, Menlo Park recreation departmetn will sponsor a "Junior Teen" club for youngsters who will be in the seventh and eighth grades next fall, it was announced this week by Hal Price, program director.

The program is open to all youngsters within the proper age group residing in Menlo Park.

Those wishing further information should contact Price at Burgess Park.

Matadors Have Strong Following From New Area Afficionado Club

Pina Taurina Pepe Osuna de San Mateo is one more crest in the rising wave of fan clubs across the United States trying to educate the American populace on the grace and beauty only to be found in bull fighting.

Two Menlo Park residents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sanguinetti, are behind the only present Bay Area fan club devoted to bull fighting. Pina Taurina means just that — fan club for matadors. In this case, the matador is Pepe Osuna, the most heralded Spanish bull fighter ever to appear in Mexico.

Osuna, although standing just 4-11, has amazing instincts for a matador. He has won more awards south of the border than any Spanish matador in history. The "San Mateo" in the club's name refers to the county, but in bull fighting circles, San Mateo refers to one of the meanest stock of bulls used in arenas.

Dick Saguinetti, a local barber, came to Menlo Park from Chula Vista, where he and his wife formed a similar bull fight fan club. Pina Taurina originally was meant to be just a small group, but the word on what the Saguinettis were trying to do spread rapidly. The group is continually growing.

On June 27, at El Picador restaurant, Redwood City, Osuna will make a special trip to speak to his afficionados (fans). Mrs. Sanguinetti said the speech is open to the public after first phoning her at EM 9-9002.

Then, June 29, a group of 45 will take a chartered bus to Tijuana, Mexico, to see Osuna perform. More trips along these lines are in the planning stages for Pina Taurina.

The purpose of the bull fight fan club is to educate those interested in the art — bull fighting is not considered a sport — even though the club member may never have witnessed a matador actually going through his deft, graceful moves.

"We do not try to promote bull fighting in the United States," Mrs. Sanguinetti declared. "We only try to help those in learning of its beauty and to instruct prospective tourists on how to act and dress whenever going to see a fight."

Mrs. Sanguinetti, a native Californian, was raised near the Mexican border as a child and quickly grew to love the life of a ranchero. "It was hard not trying to like bull fighting when you're brought up right in the middle of it."

Bull fighting has become a central part of her life and that of her family. Victor, a 20-year-old son, has had considerable experience as a novierro, or apprentice matador. At El Picador, Victor will demonstrate many of his moves with the cape of the matador.

Mrs. Sanguinetti feels that Victor will not attempt to enrich himself on the glamor that only comes to a matador. "Victor would have to completely live the life of a matador. This is very difficult to do," stressed Mrs. Sanguinetti.

This is the chief drawback of Americanos who want to become matadors. Living the life of a matador means living first on a ranch to learn of the bull, its breeding characteristics, moods and mannerisms.

"This explains why there are very few American matadors."

Four EPA Teens Complete Rec Leader Class

Nell Goodwill, Johanna Euley, Ron Ban and Ken Semon — these are the teenagers who completed the recently-held recreation leadership course sponsored by the Ravenswood Recreation and Park District.

They learned the fundamentals of playground work, ways of developing leadership skills and techniques and how to teach current and new games used on the playground.

The course also included a description of the characteristics of children at various ages and how these can be incorporated into a workable recreation program. First aid and district policies were covered in the course, too.

A total of 18 hours of classwork were taught by members of the district staff. All four teenagers received Certificates of Award from the district.

One of the teenagers who completed the course will be hired as an assistant leader for the summer. That person will aid a regular leader at one of the district playgrounds. Others who finished the course may also be hired for duty on special event days this summer.

In addition, they may use the recreation district as a job reference if they seek summer work in other areas.

Another course will be held next spring and will be open to any teenager interested in learning to work with people.

Green Oaks: Champions

Green Oaks School's highly-rated eighth graders and surprising seventh grade trackmen dominated the annual Ravenswood City School District boys' track meet last week at Ravenswood High School.

The final scores in each division: Seventh grade — Green Oaks, 42; Garden Oaks, 19, and Menlo Oaks, 15. Eighth grade— Green Oaks, 38; Garden Oaks, 31, and Menlo Oaks, 13. Green Oaks was the defending seventh grade champion and Garden Oaks held the eighth grade title after last year's meet.

The day's top time was turned in, however, by Dexter Foster of Garden Oaks who sprinted the 75-yard dash in 7.9 seconds. There was some feeling that the race course might have been a few yards short — but the time was good, nevertheless.

Right at Foster's heels in the race was Steve Mitchell of Green Oaks. Mitchell later came back to clock an excellent 10.5 in the 100-yard dash.

The Menlo Oaks squad had a rugged day of it. Only seventh-grader Hugh Smith was able to take an undisputed first place. He nabbed the broad jump at 15-11. The M.O. relay team won the eighth grade event only because Garden Oaks and Green Oaks were disqualified.

Here are the complete results:

SEVENTH GRADE

50-yard dash: Jerry McArthur (Green Oaks) first, 5.8; John Walton (Green Oaks), second, 5.8; Hugh Smith (Menlo Oaks) ,third, 5.9; George Walker, Garden Oaks, 5.9. (Race was five yards short).

75-yard dash: Ray Vercher (Green Oaks), 5.9, first; Walton, second; Smith, third; eJrry Simon, Garden Oaks, fourth.

220-yard run: Vercher, first, 26.5; McArthur, second; Simon, third; Stevens, Menlo Oaks, fourth.

440-yard relay: Green Oaks (Ben Pasana, Walton, Vercher and MacArthur), 52.0; Garden Oaks, second; Menlo Oaks, third.

Broad jump: Smith, Menlo Oaks, 15-11, first; Walton, second; Pasana, third; Walker, fourth.

High jump: MacArthur, first, 4-9; Kirby Stevens, Menlo Oaks, second; George Wiche, Garden Oaks, and Washington, Garden Oaks, tied for third.

Shot put: Dave Neilson, Garden Oaks, first, 36.5; Jim Fouse Garden Oaks, second; Vercher, third; Don Hart, Green Oaks, fourth.

EIGHTH GRADE

75-yard dash: Dexter Foster, Garden Oaks, 7.9; Steve Mitchell, Green Oaks, second; Ed Prado, Green Oaks, third; Roger Williams, Garden Oaks, fourth.

100-yard dash: Mitchell, first, 10.5; Foster, Garden Oaks, second; Albert Martinez, Green Oaks, third; George Guthorhlein, Menlo Oaks, fourth.

330-yard run: Martinez, first, 42.1; Louis Bradley, Green Oaks, second; Guthorhelin, third; Roger Williams, Garden Oaks, fourth.

440-yard relay: Menlo Oaks (Bruce Brown, Jeff Lapierre, Mark Olson, Guthorhlein), first. Garden Oask finished first and Green Oaks was second — but both were disqualified for infractions.

Hop-step-and-jump: Jackie Graves, Garden Oaks, first, 35-4; Fred Tinsley, Garden Oaks, second; Prado, third; LaPierre, Menlo Oaks, fourth.

Broad jump: Mitchell, first 17-8¼; Martinez, second; Tinsley, third; Mark Olson, Menlo Oaks, fourth.

High jump: Tinsley, first, 4-9; Andrew McGee, Green Oaks, second (cleared same height as Tinsley but had more misses); Charles Shepherd, Green Oaks, third; Ray Leal, Garden Oaks, fourth.

Shot put: Roger Williams, Garden Oaks, first, 40-6; Greg Kendall, Green Oaks, second; Steve Klett, Menlo Oaks, third; Pete Thuen, Menlo Oaks, fourth.

Moore Is Named To League Team

Hal Moore, senior at Menlo School, has been selected all-league third baseman in Bay Counties Athletic League selections, it was announced this week.

Moore was a senior at the school this year.

Lick-Wilmerding won the league championship in a play off with St. Vincent's School of Marin County; Menlo wound up in a tie for fourth place.

This is the second straight year that Moore has won a berth on the all-league team. He had a pitching record of 7-3 and batted .381. He was his team's leader in hits, runs scored and RBI's.

His selection was made by a unanimous vote of all coaches involved in the selections.

Local Man, Woman Top Senior Citizens

Mrs. Helen Jodocy and George Prince were on June 5 named Senior Woman and Senior Man of the Year.

Awards were made by contest judges U. S. Simonds and Philip Morse at the annual Senior Citizens of the Year picnic held this year at Flood Park. The contest is a project of the Senior Forum of San Mateo County. Sponsored by the Community Council, it represents thea 26 senior groups within the county. Selections for the awards are based on services to the community during the past year. Nominations may be made by any group or club.

Mrs. Jodocy is an active member of Little House in Menlo Park. Her contributions during the past year have included organizing groups to visit and provide recreation for mentally ill patients at Agnew State Hospital. She has worked as a volunteer in occupational therapy at Canyon Sanitorium. She has done volunteer work at El Portal School for the Handicapped and provides transportation or shops for the homebound. She is chairman of the Community Services Committee at Little House and has aught weaving there for seven years.

George Prince is a member of Redwood City's Fun After Fifty Club. He was president of the club last year. He is a member of the Redwood City Planning Commission and of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce. His retirement career is in the field of accounting and tax consulting, and he volunteers much of his time in this field to his fellow senior citizens. He is a member of the Senior Forum and participated on the by-laws committee for this group. He is a sponsoring member of the Redwood City Police Youth Club and the YMCA.

Among the four other senior citizens receiving Honorable Mention in the contest was Guy Hafer, 810 College Ave., Menlo Park, a member and past president of Little House in Menlo Park. He serves as chairman of the Finance Committee at Little House and performs volunteer consultation and labor on electrical equipment for Little House and retirement apartments. He is active in the Men's Club and the Men's Glee Club. He participates in church work and is responsible for the church bulletin.

The two winners of the contest received certificates and also were awarded as prizes a trip to Hollywood by Matson steamship, a two-day visit at the Hollywood Plaza Hotel, a tour of the movie studios and a return trip by air. These prizes were courtesy of Mohun International Travels. They were also awarded certificates for dinner at the Villa Hotel, courtesy of the management of Villa Hotel.

Ladera Boy, 13, Wins Art Award

Joseph Bonner, 13-year-old son of the Children Bonners of Ladera, was awarded the Portola Valley Community Center's first art scholarship this week.

The $81.50 grant is for five weeks of art study in the upcoming Portola Valley School District summer school. The classes will be presented by the Pacific Academy of the Arts, June 18 through July.

Three honorable mentions also were named by a three-man panel. They are Mike Nelson, 14, of Portola Valley; Tim Abbott, 17, of Los Altos; and William Patterson, 13, of Portola Valley.

The youngsters were judged on art work and essays telling why they want to study art.

The judges included Lucille Davis, Portola Valley exhibiting artist; George Harris, professor of art at the College of Notre Dame in Belmont; and Don George, head of the Woodside High School art department.

Jack W. Shuck Graduated From Academy

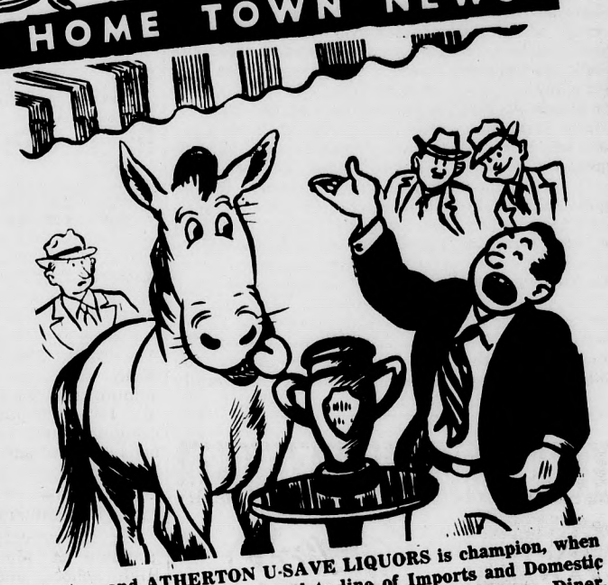

Jack W. Shuck of Atherton, was commissioned an Air Force second lieutenant and received his bachelor of science degree at graduation ceremonies last week at the U.S. Air Force Academy.

Lieutenant Shuck, son of Colonel and Mrs. Jack E. Shuck of 167 Heather Drive, Atherton, will be assigned to pilot training at Moody AFB, Ga.

The new Air Force officer, a graduate of Fairborn (Ohio) High School, received recognition at the Academy for his academic and military achievement by being named to the superintendent's merit list. He majored in public affairs.

Comedia Performances Mix Emotions In One-Act Contest

Last of the season's free Monday Evening Series presentations by Comedia Repertory Company opened last week at the Comedia Theater in Menlo Park, to an audience of mixed emotions.

The two plays were winners of Comedia's third annual One-Act Contest and were as different as night and day.

The first one, and by far the most satisfying, was Dick Perry's original "Who'll Teach My Baby Razor Blades?" which was brief and to the point, with a down-to-earth story telling about a girl's pregnancy.

The other, an adaptation of Franz Kafka's "The Hunger Artist" by Marc Zimmerman, is about the conflict of the individual and the masses in the form of a man who starves himself for profit as a public spectacle and must take the public's pity and spite as he finds it.

Perry's one-act, though sketchy, followed the fast affair of the lovers, played by Lorraine Huelsenkamp and real-life husband Bill. It sputtered and coughed through the early scenes, but righted itself into a dramatic triumph of moral virtue largely through the splendid efforts of Mrs. Huelsenkamp, the warmest of the cast of three. Mike Collins was the churlish bartender.

The hunger artists (there were two) were given excellent treatment by Jerry Grant and John Allan, but even the feeling they developed for their roles couldn't save this from being much more than an intense exercise in heavy drama.

Other good performances came from Eric Silins as the Impresario, Janis Fisher, Charles Botsford and Steve Moulds as the public and Richard Black, Stuart Spence, Leslie Stratee and Emily Newbury.

The costuming and makeup, particularly on Grant and Allan, was spectacular, but the surrealistic setting and the plot of a man deliberately starving himself while being persecuted for it just didn't sink in for most of us.

Peter Slavinskis did the setting for "The Hunger Artists" and showed he knew what he was doing. Elaine Sinclair directed the first one-act and Silins the second, with both keeping them moving very briskly.

The two one-acts will be playing Monday nights at the Comedia Theater, 1300 El Camino Real in Menlo Park.

Hynes Announces:

'Farm at the Fair' Picked As 1963 Agricultural Theme

Representatives of San Mateo County's agricultural community have voted to base all exhibits at the 29th annual County Fair and Floral Fiesta Aug. 2-10 around the theme, "The Farm at the Fair," county Grange Master Clarence Hynes of East Palo Alto announced recently.

The selection of the theme came as members of local granges and farm bureaus met with County Agriculture Commissioner Victor Canavese and Elmira Liebau, farm advisor of the agricultural extension service, at the county fairgrounds to plan the 1963 show.

According to Hynes, Aug. 4 has been declared Statewide Grange Day and will be celebrated with special activities at the Fiesta.

Fair manager William M. Wilson said that all agricultural displays will be arranged around the Golden Gate Produce Terminal's feature exhibit.

"Our plans can take definite shape now," Wilson said, "because all exhibit space in the agriculture department has been filled."

Wilson introduced Mrs. S. C. Nelson of San Mateo as superintendent of the home economics building, and Michael Fox of Half Moon Bay as superintendent of the agricultural exhibits building. Fox and Mrs. Nelson will be in charge of the exhibit entrees, placement and maintenance during the nine-day show.

"All of us who have participated in the fair's agricultural show have been more than pleased with the arrangements of our displays," Hynes said, "and the design plans for the year again are excellent."

Represented at the meeting were the Half Moon Bay Grange, Pescadero-San Gregorio Farm Bureau, Woodside Gardeners, San Mateo County Farm Bureau Women, San Mateo County Farm Bureau, East Palo Alto Grange, Pescadero Grange, San Mateo County (Pomona) Grange, East Palo Alto Community Service Committee, Half Moon Bay Growers Association, Woodside Farm Bureau Center and the William Cervenka One-Family Farm.

June is Best Month to Put Bedding Plants In Summer bedding plants, those wonderful warm weather friends, are filling California gardens with waves of color this month—if they were planted in time. On the other hand, for gardeners who failed to plant them, all is not lost. A current note from the nurserymen reminds us that they can still go in to the ground.

June is the best month to plant bedders, however, if you expect maximum color from them this summer. A few can be planted later for quick bloom in July and August, but the major color bearers such as stock, snapdragons, zinnias, asters, petunias, marigolds and their like should go in at the earliest or you'll miss much of their potential bloom.

A quick visit to your local nursery will show you what's available in flats this month, so let's dwell instead on some suggestions to give you maximum results with the bedders you plant. Many gardeners never discover just how beautifully some annuals perform simply because they fail to take a few extra steps at planting time to assure success.

The first step is turning the soil deepl yenough to insure a free and easy root run. We could take a lesson here from the great English gardeners who long ago discovered that a well-turned soil works wonders with bedding plants. Extremists will dig 18 inches or more down, but you'll get excellent results by digging only 12. If you've been satisfied in past years to poke around with a trow l, barely scratching the surface before planting annuals, try deep soil turning. You'll often be amazed and always pleased with the results.

Deep soil turning is enough in itself to work wonders, but heavy clay soils will benefit further with a leavening of steer manure, peat moss or bark. Work these in well during the spading process for long lasting results.

Annuals may be little, but they have big appetites, and step number three is to provide them with food. Fertilizer can be worked into the soil at a level below where the initial root ball will be when you take the transplants from a nursery flat.

Another method — a lazy man's method, but still effective—is to work a tablespoonful of commercial fertilizer into the planting hole when you set each individual transplant in place. Again, this should be far enough down so that the fertilizer is not in contact with the plant's roots.

Step number four is to insure that the transplanting from nursery flat to ground is done with a minimum of disturbance to the plants.

In warm weather, it is especially important to guard against the shock of drying out. The ground should be thoroughly watered a day or two in advance of planting, and after the young plants are set out, they should be watered in immediately. Needless to say, plants that have been purchased in less than flat-quantity should go into the ground as soon as you can get them home. If delay is inevitable, set the plants in the shade and keep them moist.

To guard against wilting, shade the newly planted annuals with burlap or some other screening material. You can get by without this step, but your bedders will be much happier with it.

When the young bedders are in place, pinch out the top portion of each plant to encourage its becoming bushier.

Many gardeners hesitate to pinch out young plants on which buds or even blooms are already showing, but failure to do so will reduce the number of blooms a plant can produce in the long run.

By pinching, you stimulate side branching and the more branches you have on any plant, the more blooms it will produce. So reconcile yourself to missing the first buds and remind yourself that removing them is all for the best. You won't be sorry you did.

40th YEAR—No. 24 THURSDAY, JUNE 13, 1963 SECOND SECTION

Atherlons Elect New Board for Coming Year

At the highly successful Atherlons "mystery luncheon" held at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito, a new slate of officers was presented for the 1963-64 term.

Mrs. Lee Boucher, a member of the nominating committee, presented the names of the new officers. Mrs. Earl D. Hoyt was elected president; Mrs. Allan Rawlins was named first vice president; Mrs. Newton Turney, second vice president; Mrs. Vernon Peterson, recording secretary; Mrs. Gifford Christenson, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Terry Whitney, treasurer.

FALL PLANS

The newly elected board will take over in the fall when the Atherlons will hold their monthly meeting at the Sharon Heights Golf and Country Club. At that time Mrs. Walter Leclerc will turn over the gavel to Mrs. Hoyt.

Betty Hoyt moved to Menlo Park four years ago with her husband and three boys. Her husband, Earl, is president and general manager of Rapistan of California, Inc. Betty was secretary of Menlo-Atherton Newcomers Club, is a member of the Palo Alto unit of the San Francisco Junior League and has been doing publicity for the Atherlons for the past two years. Her hobbies include children and sports.

VICE PRESIDENT

Mrs. Allan Rawlins, better known as Helene, lives in Menlo Park with her husband and two boys. Allan is in the merchandising business while Helene is a member of a Children's Health Council auxiliary and a very active member of the Hillview PTA. Her hobby is tennis.

Estelle Turney and her husband, Newton, are natives of Dallas, Tex. They moved here four years ago and are now living in Atherton. The Turneys have two daughters. Estelle is a past president of Menlo-Atherton Newcomers Club and also a member of the Palo Alto Junior Auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent Home. One of her many hobbies is flower arranging and this year she is in charge of all flower arrangements at Aliled Arts.

Mrs. Vernon Peterson came to Menlo Park nearly four years ago from Ridgewood, N.J., with her husband, daughter and son, Jeanne's husband is with the Lockheed Missile and Space Co. Her favorite hobby is gardening and one she is anticipating is golf.

Lynn and Gifford Christenson also are from New Jersey. They have a college-age son. Lynn's husband is West Coast manager for Simmons Co. She is extremely interested in "antiquing," gardening, sewing and decorating.

Diane Whitney and her husband, Terry, moved to this area from Taft a little over three years ago. The Whitneys have two little girls. Terry is assistant treasurer for Consolidated Freightways in Menlo Park.

The Atherlons is an organization which was formed by a group of women who had graduated from Menlo - Atherton Newcomers Club. The object of the Atherlons is to provide an organization through which Newcomer graduates may continue associations with people of similar interests and to promote good fellowship among members.

The Fun and Fund group of Atherlons has recently pledged their support of the Menlo Park Boys' Club.

WITH VISIONS OF . . .

. . . Summer Symphony 4 and a year's projects dancing in their heads, Charter Auxiliary to Children's Health Council of the Mid-Peninsula welcomed new members at a tea given at the W. B. Dickman home in Atherton recently. Above are new members Mrs. David Pickler, Mrs. Donald V. Heisler and Mrs. Richard Carey. At right are Mrs. George Collins, Mrs. David E. Ferguson, Mrs. C. R. Christensen and Mrs. George English, president of Charter Auxiliary for the coming year. At the same afternoon affair, Charter members met Mrs. Merritt E. Cutten recently named assistant to the director of CHC.

Pink Ladies:

Hospital Helpers Asks Volunteers

Palo Alto-Stanford's Hospital Auxiliary is this week launching its annual appeal to students between ages of 16 and 18 to volunteer their services during the summer months.

"Vacation replacements of Pink Ladies are sought for nearly every branch of the auxiliary's program," Mrs. Arthur Bridgett, auxiliary president, announced today. "These include such a variety of activities that one or more should coincide with the interests of any active young person," Mrs. Bridgett said. "Work in connection with admissions, escort, gift shop, nutrition cart, pediatrics, physical medicine, special services or tours offers a wide range of choice, both as to amounts of time and energy required and kinds of learning involved. Young men as well as young women are needed, particularly for the escort service."

The staff of the auxiliary's office, headed by Mrs. David Gallagher, is prepared to accept Candy-Striper applications immediately. Interested persons may call 321-1200, ext. 5103, between the hours of 9:15 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. Interviewing officers, including Mrs. Matt Lehmann, Mrs. H. J. Brueckner, Mrs. George Ogle, Mrs. John Patterson, Mrs. Stanley Sharp and Mrs. Eleanor Walker, will make appointments with the applicants; placement and orientation will follow soon after the personal interview.

"Participation in the hospital's volunteer program is a happy experience for our Candy Stripers — and for their families," Mrs. Bridgett said. "Besides the immediate joy of giving, many of them have found their summer's work a guide to new career-interests in the field, of health. And they have discovered the pleasures of work that is stimulating and satisfying, not only as a matter of civic pride but in a very personal and lasting sense."

Bouquets Passed Out:

Friends of the Library Honor Outgoing Board

Outgoing officers of the Menlo Park Friends of the Library were honored at a brunch party held at the Atherton home of Mrs. John Troster, book review chairman.

"Certificates of Appreciation" were awarded to Mrs. Roy Seagraves, outgoing chairman; Mrs. Stanley Golden, hospitality chairman, and Colonel George Shank, treasurer.

Past Friends chairman and presently library trustee Mrs. Joseph A. Scaroni made the presentations. She expressed the gratitude of the library board for the years of dedication by these representative volunteers who have contributed so much to better library service.

Mrs. Seagraves was honored especially for originating the annual book fair which benefits the library and for running it for the past four years so that it is now an established tradition in Menlo Park.

Mrs. Golden has served the library in several ways during the past few years, as secretary, display chairman and as hospitality chairman. In this last capacity, she has been the main representative of the Friends in working with other community groups which co-sponsor programs at the library.

Col. Shank, as treasurer, "contributed so much more to the Friends and to the library than his title shows. He has truly been a mainstay of our library volunteer work and a true friend of the library," Mrs. Scaroni said.

Two other board members present, Mrs. Wesley B. Chatterton, secretary, and Mrs. Florence Rawlins Tenney, membership chairman, were told that although they surely deserved awards for their years of service at the library, they can't have them until they leave the board.

"And," Mrs. Scaroni added, "we hope that won't be for some time."

Among the guests at the brunch were Mrs. Roger Bennett, new chairman of Friends of the Library, and Phil Morales, librarian.

Color was one of the main ingredients of the brunch party. The Trosters' newly remodeled home provided a setting in which beautiful antiques vied with bright modern paintings and an exuberant use of color.

LIBRARY BUFFS . . .
. . . who have worked diligently to build Menlo Park's library to its present level were honored recently when (at left) Mrs. John Troster, book review chairman, entertained at brunch. Among her guests were Mrs. Roy Seagraves who initiated the book fair, Phil Morales, librarian and (at right) Mrs. Roger Bennett, new chairman for the Friends of the Library.

Grad Night Is Here

A party to remember has been the goal of the many parents who have planned this year's graduation night party for Menlo - Atherton High School's Class of '63.

Friday, June 14, will be the big night for M-A seniors at the Palo Alto Elks Club. The various committees are planning to transform the club, for that evening, to an era of the past. The actual theme of the party will not be discussed until the seniors receive their programs. From 9:30 p.m. until 4 a.m. there will be provided two bands, a buffet supper, entertainment and games during the evening, topped off by breakfast. All seniors are urged to attend with or without a date.

Among those who have volunteered their time as committee heads heading up the preparations are Mrs. Byron Mortenson, general chairman; Mrs. Arthur Burnett, decorations; Mrs. Robert Cody, games; Mrs. Frank Nye, entertainment; Mrs. Max Forsythe, finance; Mrs. Lawrence Klein, staffing; Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Sargent, programs; Mrs. Robert Fisher, clean-up; Mrs. Robert Wersted and Mrs. Stanley Stephenson, favors and prizes; Mrs. A. T. Cook, Mrs. Needham Lambert, check-room; mailing, Mrs. Kenneth Benedict; Mrs. Homer Gant, telephone; Mrs. Morris Buckingham, secretary-publicity; Mrs. Richard Schlegel, purchasing agent, and Mrs. Donald Newport, liaison.

STANFORD ALUMS

Stanford Alumni Club of Palo Alto will hold a family day on the Morshead estate in Woodside from 12:30 to 4:30 on Saturday. Junius Carey is chairman of the barbecue.

Song of Norway:

Year Abroad Is AFS Award

Ever tried to buy clothes for a Norwegian winter as the Fourth of July looms on the calendar?

It isn't easy.

Nancy Cluck, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Cluck, has been accepted as the American Field Service student from Menlo - Atherton High School qualifying for a year-long year of residence and study in Norway. She leaves June 26 from New York. Many details, of course, must be taken care of before her departure and an important one is the clothing she will take. Mrs. Cluck has managed to take the whole thing in stride, but she is a little breathless when describing the problem of outfitting Nance for a year as to school clothes, skiing clothes and clothes to wear for the hiking, swimming and tennis that her Norwegian family have indicated they enjoy during the summer.

The usual interviewing and screening have gone on so effectively that Nance and her parents feel delighted with the opportunity that she will have through AFS. Her host family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olaf Lie, live in Oslo, have four children, Ellen Margrete, 18, Marianne, 16, Anette, 11, and Sverre, 13. Th father of the family is a ship broker in Oslo and they are an athletic group, it would seem, as a recent letter from one of the girls described to Nance the sports they would enjoy together during both the summer and winter season.

With the usual discernment of AFS plainly in background, Nancy happily is a skiier, swimmer, tennis player and enjoys hiking. Besides her parents, she has a sister, Patty, 13, and a younger brother, Bob, who is 6 years old.

While attending Nordstrand Hogre Shole in Oslo, a five-year "gymnasium," Nancy will study English, Norwegian, religion, physical education, biology (in Norwegian), and math. Additionally, a program of sightseeing and cultural activities is planned to introduce her to Norwegian life. She will study the language on the boat going over and at a language camp which will be her first stop in Norway. And she's thrilled about the year ahead.

NANCY CLUCK

WAC VETS

The regular monthly meeting of Palals Athene Chapter 43 of the National WAC Veterans Association will be held on Thursday, June 20, at the home of Emma May Boggs, 44 Lodato Ave., San Mateo, at 8:15 p.m.

NEW FAMILY HERE

Mr. and Mrs. John Barton and their three children have recently moved from Chicago and are now living in Menlo Park. Barton is an engineer for Raytheon.

Pleasant Memories:

Eyre Home Hosts Farewell Party

The house was built in 1902 by Perry Eyre of San Francisco for a family summer home. His brother, Edward Eyre, built on Atherton Avenue at about the same time. It sheltered the family at the time of the 1906 earthquake and fire.

It is a true Georgian Colonial style with characteristic pillars. It is built largely of redwood timbers and siding, with lovely details, parquet floors of oak in the main rooms, and a carved balustrade of mahogany. It is three stories, with full basement, and has twenty rooms.

Originally centered in about twelve acres of oak-studded land, the house now stands on three and one-half acres, the balance having been sold off for modern homes.

During World War II, Mrs. Eyre allowed her home to be used as a local Red Cross work room. Bandages were rolled and surgical dressings folded on trestle tables in the large downstairs rooms.

After Mrs. Eyre's death, her daughter, Mrs. Marshall Madroon, sold the home to Professor and Mrs. Paul Holden of Stanford. They redecorated and modernized the house, and lived there with their daughter, Sally, but it was larger than they needed and they sold it to friends, the Bert Carrs and their seven children.

The Carr children have all grown up there, and have enjoyed the freedom of country living with a horse, swimming pool, and understanding neighbors. Two daughters have been married here. The Carrs, always gracious hosts, have opened their home to many private gatherings and to parties, teas, barbecues, dinners, and cocktail groups.

Now the family has grown up. Mr. and Mrs. Carr (Bert and Win) are moving to a smaller home and the lovely colonial house is for sale.

In keeping with her usual hospitality, Mrs. Carr has asked her Sigma Kappa sorority sisters to a final swim party and picnic on Thursday, June 20, at noon. It will be with some nostalgia for all as this has been the scene of many functions — a reading tea, Feb. 15, 1952, at which Mrs. Reginald Loftus, a former drama instructor at Stanford, read "A Lantern in Her Hand"; a musical tea the following year at which a harp concert was featured; a luncheon and fashion show given by Beta Rho chapter of San Jose, a summer swim party for college actives, and numerous Peninsula alumnae picnics, teas and meetings.

Unification Studies:

LWV Meets Civic Leaders

League of Women Voters of South San Mateo County held their annual luncheon to meet their community leaders and to introduce the new league board and officers to the community.

Mrs. E. C. Beverstock, president, introduced E. C. McDonald and William Werder, supervisors; Keith Sorenson, district attorney; Ray L. Spangler, publisher of the Redwood City Tribune; Frank Brinkman, Redwood City Chamber of Commerce manager; Mrs. Charlotte Mayer, Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce secretary; Mrs. Florence Cadigan, chairman county board of education; Menlo Park Fire District President Wallace E. Ott; John Volpiano, fire chief of Woodside; Max E. Gerten, administrator Sequoia Hospital District; Dean R. Haug, county garbage and refuse disposal district; George R. Angus, Menlo Park Sanitary District; John R. Johnson, Menlo Park City manager; James Neal, Redwood City manager; John P. Connors, chairman Dumbarton Fire District; Dr. Rex Turner, superintendent Sequoia High School District; Eddie Allen, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Mrs. Kenneth Cooperrider of the LWV of SSMC, who is a member of the Hospital and Health Facilities Planning Commission initiated by the Community Council ,spoke about he work of the commission.

Wililam Werder commended the LWV booklet, San Mateo County, 1963, stating that it had been presented to Grand Jury members and he had used it for a handy reference though the material had been assembled in county offices.

Current projects for the LWV board are the distribution of information for county voters on school unification facts and issues as they develop in the coming year. A pamphlet giving background material on unification studies in South San Mateo County will be ready for distribution from the League office at 1100 Merrill St., Menlo Park, by July 1.

Saturday Wedding:

Pre-Nuptial Parties Honor Sue Leslie

The forthcoming wedding next Saturday, June 15, of Sue Leslie and Burt Smith, follows closely Sue's graduation last Saturday from the University of California at Berkeley, occasioning many parties in her honor. The young couple will be married at the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church.

Sue, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Carsten Leslie of Atherton, has been honored at many bridal showers given by her bridesmaids. Mrs. Ruben (Patty) Peterson and her mother, Mrs. Robert O. Davis, entertained at a shower for Sue at the Davis' Menlo Park home during the Christmas holidays. Patty will be a bridesmaid at Sue's wedding.

The month of May brought a shower of bridal showers for Sue. First a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Edward (Rosi) Ford, a bridesmaid, in her Palo Alto home. Nanci Heist and Jane Rockford, sorority sisters of the bride-elect, entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the Alpha Delta Pi sorority house at Cal. Nanci, from Rolling Hills, Calif., will be a bridesmaid.

Bonnie Rae of San Francisco, another bridesmaid and sorority sister, entertained at a lingerie shower for Sue at her apartment on the Cal campus.

Mrs. Calvin Nelson, Mr. Leslie's cousin, honored Sue at a luncheon-shower at her Hillsborough home for family members and friends.

Mrs. Leslie and Sue will entertain at a tea at the Allied Arts Guild in Menlo Park on Thursday for the bridesmaids and their mothers.

The wedding rehearsal dinner will be given by Burt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Campbell Smith of Hillsborough, at the Pioneer Hotel in Woodside.

Mary Leslie will take the role of maid of honor at her sister's wedding, and Jill Leslie will be her sister's flower girl.

Bruce Smith, home from Willamette University, will be best man at his brother's wedding.

George Leslie, home from San Jose State, will be an usher at his sister's wedding, and Jack Leslie will be the ringbearer for his sister and Burt in the double ring ceremony. The ushers, besides George, will be Al Werner, Ed Ford and Dick Cloud.

Board Jobs Named

Mrs. Richard DeZur of Menlo Park, new president of Menertons, this week announced the appointive officers of her board for the women's social and philanthropic organization.

Board positions will be held by Mrs. Walter Selsted, membership; Mrs. Edward Stearns, ways and means; Mrs. Morris Ashton, interest group chairman; Mrs. Glenn Harding, news relations.

Special chairmen include Mrs. E. R. Schrock, reservations; Mrs. James Gott, historian; Mrs. Philip F. Von Ladau, hospitality; Mrs. James Briant, parlimentarian; Mrs. Claude H. Joy, budget; Mrs. F. O. Langsev, newsletter; Mrs. W. Philip McBride, roster, and Mrs. Marshall Standing, volunteer hours.

Special event chairmen for two fall affairs have been named. Mrs. W. Drew Leonard will be chairman of the annual fall party, Sept. 28. Mrs. James Sawtell is in charge of entertainment for the fall party.

Co-chairmen for the second annual rummage sale (end of October) will be Mrs. Jess W. Townsend and Mrs. Floyd S. French.

Memorial Awards:

Chi Omega Alums Give Scholarships

Two local girls, Donna Kersten and Maren Ann Milbank are the 1963 recipients of Frances Huntington Memorial Scholarships, given each year to one or more outstanding high school girls by the Chi Omega Peninsula Alumnae.

Frances Huntington, who was a teacher at Palo Alto High School for many years, was a Chi Omega, and the scholarship fund has been established by the alumnae group in her memory.

Donna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lelyand Kersten of Redwood City, and is a student at Menlo-Atherton. She will attend San Jose State College where she will major in political science.

Donna's activities include the Golden Key Honor Society. To qualify for this society a student must be in the top two per cent of the student body. She is also senior editor of the year book, student court justice, California Scholarship Federation and Golden Key secretary.

Maren is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman R. Milbank of Palo Alto. She plans to attend her parents' alma mater, the University of Washington, where she will major in the medical field.

While at Palo Alto High School she belonged to the girls Block P Society, Aquacade, Girls Jinx, Board of Welfare, Silver Seal Committee, and Bonzer Coves. She also was a harp soloist with the California Youth Symphony.

Mrs. C. H. Hill of Menlo Park was scholarship chairman. She was assisted by Mrs. Harry Nevin and Mrs. Emmet Cameron, president of the alumnae group.

Trailseeker Rank Given

Trail Seeker rank was received by the eight members of the O-so-ma-da Camp Fire Girls group at Ladera recently at the home of their guardian, Mrs. M. B. Cohagan.

With the help of Mrs. John Cox, assistant guardian, they conducted a ceremonial council fire before their guests, the Happy Blue Bird group.

Mrs. Daniel King is their guardian, assisted by Mrs. Jack Pratt. The girls presented their leader with a charm bracelet as she will be leaving for Chicago. The O-so-ma-da girls are Amy Cox, Elayna Wertman, Louise Villalba, Sally Stearns, Martha Valdes, Megan Raymond, Kim Cohagan, and Susan Mattman. They made scrapbooks for their service project and presented them to the Peninsula Children's Center.

Blue Birds are Kathy McLean, Darcy Pratt, Kitty King, Tris Rosenthal, Cathy Carey, Gail Sanders and Lois Miller.

Sigma Kappa Conclave Held

Sigha Kappa sorority will stage its conclave from June 14 until June 18 at the chapter house at the University of California, Berkeley.

Representing Peninsula alumnae of Sigma Kappa will be Mrs. Walton Dismukes, Mrs. O. E. Sette, Edith Blinn and Mrs. Lewis T. Long.

Mrs. Settle will appear on the program for endowment; Mrs. Dismukes is Panhellenic representative.

Smith College Club Gives Student Aid

Annual meeting of the Smith College Club of the Peninsula was held at the home of Mrs. Bliss Carnochan, 491 Middle Court, in Menlo Park.

The following women were elected to hold office for the coming year: Mrs. Kenneth, Castonguay, president; Mrs. R. Gordon Gould, vice president; Mrs. James Hill, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Grant Rigby, alumnae fund director.

Continuing in office are Mrs. C. E. Purviance as treasurer and Mrs. Bliss Carnochan as recording secretary.

Annual reports were read, including that of the successful autumn house tour and art sale held with the Vassar Club, proceeds of which went to the scholarship fund to assist a worthy student to go to Smith.

A portion was awarded to Catherine Crane who is graduating from Saratoga High School. Catherine is a member of the first class to have gone four years to Saratoga. She has also received an achievement award from the Bank of America. She will enter Smith College in September as a freshman along with six other girls from this area.

They are Nancy Robison and Edie Kirk from Palo Alto High School; Jane Ginsberg from Los Altos; Joan Althans from Castilleja; Delphine Dodge from Saratoga and Mary Stevens from Aragon in San Mateo.

The balance of the funds raised at the benefit will be added to a special endowment fund, the income of which is used to send Peninsula area girls to Smith. Frequently, the club, through this program, is aiding three other Smith students from this area, Robin Rosentrater from Menlo aPrk and Sally Douglas of Palo Alto, both sophomores this year, and Beth Roberts, a junior from Menlo Park.

The benefit was at the Cabana, took the form of a poolside cocktail luncheon, and featured a fashion show of swim suits and a performance by Clyde Devine's Watercade.

Double Ring Ceremony:

Donald William Sipples Honeymooning in Hawaii

Mr. and Mrs. Donald William Sipple are honeymooning in Hawaii this week, and will return shortly to take up residence in Palo Alto.

Don and the former Barbara Kay Keely exchange vows Sunday afternoon at Methodist Community Church of Los Altos. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Keith Walker of Sacramento. Rev. Charles Cox officiated at the 2 o'clock double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Walker of Sherman Oaks, Calif. Don's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sipple of Palo Alto.

Barbara chose a ballerina length taffeta gown of pale aqua for her wedding. Aqua lace fashioned the bodice and the lace sleeves tapered to points. Her short tulle veil was secured by a taffeta circlet. She carried an oval bouquet of white stephanotis and gardenias.

Maid of honor was Dianne Sipple, sister of the bridegroom. She wore a beige silk linen sheath, which featured cap sleeves and a large bow at the back of the waist. Her headpiece was a beige circlet with a short veil. Blue carnations and white gardenias formed her spray bouquet.

Identical frocks were worn by bridesmaids Pam Walker of Sacramento, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Douglas McLean of Sunnyvale, close friends of the bride, and Ruth Canon of Palo Alto, school friend of the bride.

Wayne Pitluck of San Francisco, close friend of the bridegroom, stood as best man. Ushering duties were performed by Douglas McLean of Sunnyvale, John Wild of Portola Valley, Mark McAllister of Palo Alto, and Everett Maynard of Menlo Park. All are close friends of the bridegroom.

The church fireside room was the locale of the reception which immediately followed the ceremony. Approximately 100 guests passed through the receiving line.

Don's mother received guests in a mauve silk dress with jacket. Her accessories matched the ensemble. Her corsage was a white orchid.

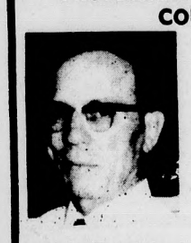

Mrs. Keith Walker, the bride's aunt, and Don's grandmother, Mrs. Ina Sipple of Sherwood, Ore., also wore white orchid corsages.

The new Mrs. Sipple chose a dark plaid cotton suit dress with neutral top for her going away ensemble.

Barbara is a graduate of Castilleja Girls' School in Palo Alto. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. George Lewis Bourne of Bal Harbor, Fla.

Don was graduated from Menlo-Atherton High School and served in the United States Coast Guard. His other grandmother is Mrs. Elsie Carr of Billerica, Mass.

Juniors Take A First

Menlo-Atherton Junior Women's Club was honored recently at the annual state convention of California Federated Women's Clubs, junior membership, when a first place award, for small clubs, was presented in the "Armed Forces and Veterans' Services" division.

This award was merited for outstanding work done and money donated in connection with the Palo Alto and Menlo Park divisions of Veterans' Admnistration Hospitals.

Mrs. George Perkins, Pacifica District president, presented a report on the year's activities of Pacifica District to the convention membership. The convention was held at the Disneyland Hotel, May 23 to May 25. Those attending from the Menlo-Atherton Junior Women's Club were Mrs. George Perkins, Mrs. Clark Keenan, Mrs. John Sullivan and Mrs. Clem Bauman.

The June business meeting of the Menlo-Atherton Junior Women's Club will be held this Thursday at the home of Mrs. R. W. McWard, president, 1044 Berkeley Ave., Menlo Park, at 8 p.m. Formulation of philanthropical and ways and means projects for the coming year will be the main order of business.

Mrs. John Sullivan will give a report on the provisional coffee, held for prospective club members at her home on June 6. Attending the coffee were Mrs. Filmore McCarrol, Mrs. Herbert McClaine, Mrs. Ralph Del Bucchia and Mrs. Louie Budelli, who enjoyed an instructive analysis of the purpose and workings of Federated Junior Women's Clubs, presented by Mrs. Sullivan. Also attending were Mrs. R. W. McWard and Mrs. Thomas Morey.

ANTIQUE BUFFS . . . . . found a treasure house Saturday when Open House at the Golden Shears shared with the public its Victorian decor and collection of antiques. One barber chair, for example, started life at the Palace Hotel and survived the 1906 earthquake. On grand opening day the barber shop brightened the avenue with a Pierce Arrow, sandwich board man, banjo player, Keystone cops and pretty girls to gild the lily.

Art Fair Staged

An Art Fair to be presented at the picturesque Red Barn at Bear Gulch Road and Skyline Boulevard on June 22 and June 23 is the current project of the Kings Mountain Improvement Association.

The association takes in the area between Skylonda and the Skyline Junction at the Half Moon Bay turnoff and numbers 70 members. The funds raised from the Art Fair will go into the fund for a community building and toward support of the association's monthly newsletter.

The fair will be open on both days from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. and will exhibit pastels, oils, wood carvings, ceramics, hand-printed luncheon cloths, hand weaving and sculpture. The volunteer fire brigade will set up a snack bar.

A local portraitist will do on the spot paintings of children in pastels and will accept orders from those interested. Artists exhibiting have been drawn from San Francisco down through San Jose. The address of the Red Barn is 16060 Skyline Boulevard.

Par Avance Closes Club Year

Closing luncheon and program for the 1962-1963 regular season of Par Avance took place on Wednesday at the Villa Hotel in San Mateo.

This will mark the end of the 29th year of the active women's club.

Since then they have worked for philanthropic projects — youth programs, health agencies — and through the years have raised and contributed thousands of dollars to them.

Their main financial support for the past five years has been to a fellowship grant of $1000. This provided for a fifth year student who has specialized in science and mathematics with intent to teach.

The Temple Emmanuel Players provided the program, reading a play that was a successful comedy hit on Broadway.

Par Avance is planning its usual summer activities for members only and will have the annual husbands' dinner dance in September at the Redwood Swim and Tennis Club in Redwood City.

Wigs Chosen Topic

June meeting of the Woodside-Portola Valley Newcomers Club was held last Thursday at the Chez Yvonne.

Guest speaker was Joan Celeste of the Maurice Wililams Beauty Salon. Miss Celeste discussed the cost and care of wigs and demonstrated the techniques of styling with the assistance of three Newcomers who modeled for the occasion, Mrs. Carson C. Peck Jr., Mrs. Gary Rockwell and Mrs. Claire Bell.

Mrs. Kenneth Griffin, president of the group, announced the appointment of the new chairmen for the interest groups. Mrs. Lawrence Nieri will head up the activities of the Day Bridge group and members interested in attending should contact her at 851-0965.

PV's Honor Four Students

Four local high school students have been chosen as recipients of the annual scholarships presented by the Peninsula Volunteers, Inc. of Menlo Park.

Mrs. Howard L. Jones, Peninsula Volunteer scholarship chairman, has announced that Carolyn Cooke, Karen Caprini and Haruo Sakamoto each will receive $1000 scholarships to the State University of their choice.

Carolyn, daughter of Mrs. Clinton Cooke of Menlo Park, graduated from Menlo-Atherton High School where she belonged to the California Scholarship Federation, Golden Key Society and Senior Class Board. She will enter the University of California at Davis.

Karen, daughter of the John Caprinis of Redwood City, graduated from Sequoia High School where she was president and a life member of the California Scholarship Federation. She will enter San Francisco State College and major in education.

Haruo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hayato Sakamoto of East Palo Alto, attended Ravenswood High School and will enter the University of California in the fall. He is interested in science and mathematics.

In addition, the Peninsula Volunteers, Inc., are presenting a special $200 award to John Paul Dusel Jr. of Atherton. A graduate of Menlo-Atherton High School, Dusel will enter the University of California at Davis.

The Peninsula Volunteer Service Committee is composed of Mrs. Howard Jones, Mrs. Edward Gunderson, Mrs. Jay Smith, Mrs. William Clark and Mrs. William Dicke.

Guide Dog To Perform At Library

Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., San Rafael, will present the first program sponsored by the Junior League of San Mateo County for building the Children's Library at Menlo Park.

The program will be held at the Menlo Park Library on June 27 from 1 to 2 p.m. The organization known as Junior Friends will be present for the program. A licensed instructor from the San Rafael school will be present to show a Guide Dog film and also give a demonstration with a Guide Dog.

Mrs. John Bacon of 244 Park Lane, Atherton, chairman of Guide Dogs' membership committee for Southern San Mateo County, is working with Junior League representatives in making arrangements for the program.

Little House Announces Slide Show

A program featuring slides of New York at night and other scenic portrayals will be presented at 2 p.m. today at Little House, 800 Middle Ave., Menlo Park.

Robert C. Paulus, a world traveler known for his complete colored slide shows, will present this illustrated lecture. Just recently Paulus entertained the Photographic Society

Police Give Tips to Aid Vacationers

People planning to go on vacation should take certain precautions, to help make sure that burglars don't learn of their absence, Menlo Park Police Chief George Potter and Atherton Police Chief Leroy Hubbard said this week.

The rules are simple, but they can do a lot to assure that your house will not be raided during your absence.

One of the most important things to do, they said, is to stop newspaper deliveries. Nothing shows a burglar that a house is vacant quite as well as a large number of papers on the lawn or porch.

Arrangements should be made to have a neighbor pick up mail regularly, so it, too, doesn't act as a give-away to would-be looters.

More About Ways To Keep Homes Safe

maintain vacation "house check" programs and officers visit houses which are temporarily vacant at random hours, so they won't establish a pattern which could be learned by a careful observer.

Burglars, the chiefs explain, sometimes go from house to house using this technique as a ruse whereby to find one which is vacant.

If your vacation away from home is going to be a long one, it's a good idea to have somebody take care of the garden, too, the chiefs agree.

Further information about the "house check" service may be had by contacting the police departments, DA 5-4424 for Menlo Park and DA 3-6131 for Atherton.

Zinnias Help Keep Color In the Garden

Provide yourself with plenty of garden color for the hot summer days that lie ahead, by planting that hardy hot-weather annul, the zinnia.

The zinnia has been hybridized into a colorful garden flower that blooms in every color but blue and in every growth habit from sprawling to upright. From the Mexican species zinnia elegans, have come many horticultural varieties such as Giants of California, Cactus Flowered, Luther Burbank hybrid, and others. These varieties include flowers with shaggy, curled or quilled petals, flowers from five to six inches across on branching plants three feet high.

There are dwarf forms of zinnias, too: Baby, Lilliput, Cupid, Pompon, etc. These are small with double flowers in a complete range of zinnia colors.

Pelargoniums Useful in Outdoor Areas

Decorate your patio or outdoor living area with containers planted in the fancy leaf or scented leaf Pelargoniums, suggests the California Association of Nurserymen. These Pelargoniums can be grown successfully throughout the state and they are particularly well suited for container culture.

The fancy leaf Pelargoniums or Geraniums include Alpha, chartreuse green leaf with red-brown markings and single scarlet flowers; Mrs. Cox, red and yellow markings on the leaf, salmon pink flowers, and Skies of Italy, dark green, red-brown and bright yellow leaves with bright red flowers. These Geraniums make handsome pot

Summer Time Is Soliciting Time -Business Bureau Gives Advice

Summer months are usually the months when crews of boys and girls travel from town to town, doing magazine solicitations, The Better Business Bureau of San Mateo County observed this week.

Most of the solicitors in these crews are reputable, but citizens can help the Better Business Bureau in weeding out those who give the industry a bad name, according to Lorene Beasley, manager of the county agency.

"You are urged to check with your bureau if solicited by strangers as any reputable company will be registered by the bureau and its canvassers must be properly licensed by the city," Beasley observed.

"The majority of subscription crews represent firms which are reputable members of "Central Registry," an association of major magazine publishers and distributors which requires the posting of $1000 performance bond to insure compliance with subscription contracts obtained by the crew," Beasley explains.

Before signing any contract, check the sales person's credentials, his license to solicit in your city and make sure you receive a copy of the contract completely filled out. This will be your receipt for payment made.

"If you check these details thoroughly you can feel sure that you will receive your magazines."

The sales pitches offered by the solicitors, that they are working for "points" or are in a contest may be authentic, because most solicitation companies do offer bonuses of this sort, Beasley went on to say.

It is not usually true, however, that the solicitor is working for a scholarship or training for a particualr profession.

Misleading statements such as "for postage only" and the like are forbidden by Central Registery.

Further information may be had by calling Beasley at the Better Business Bureau, 345-8288.

County Bar Assn. To Discuss Rules On Settlements

A panel discussion on new rules for pre-trial conferences and settlement procedures will be held this afternoon and evening by the San Mateo County Bar Association. The session, open to the public, will be from 4:30 to 7 p.m. at the Villa Hotel in San Mateo.

On the panel will be Superior Court Judges James T. O'Keefe and Frank W. Rose and attorneys Eugene Majeski, Jess S. Jackson, Saul N. Ross and Myron Alexander. Alexander is chairman of the association's Committee on Continuing Education of the Bar and president of the Portola Valley Association, a civic improvement group.

Judge O'Keefe will become the county's pre-trial and settlement judge beginning next July 1.

Friedman Fund Is Underway

Three Parent-Teacher representatives this week called attention to the educational trust fund set up on behalf of Leanne and Laurie Friedman, East Palo Alto girls whose parents died in a recent auto accident.

Mrs. T. R. McMillen, Ravenswood High president, and Mrs. George Treat, outgoing PTA president at Menlo-Atherton, joined with incoming M-A unit leader Mrs. Lyman Wear in making the announcement.

Contributions to it may be made payable to Educational Trust Fund and sent to Alan Strain, 369 Wayside Road, Portola Valley, who is the trustee. Leanne is a Ravenswood High senior and Laurie is a freshman at Pacific High School.

Class of 76 To Graduate In Valley

A graduating class of 76 will receive diplomas tonight during ceremonies at the Portola Valley Elementary School.

"Our American Heritage — The Development of Our Democracy" is the theme of the program beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the school's multi-use building.

One of the highlights will be a choral reading titled "Dignity," composed by the graduating class and narrated by student William Heflin.

The Rev. H. R. Brumbaum, pastor of Portola Valley's Christ Episcopal Church, will give the invocation. The school's principal, Frisco Sartor, will present the class for diplomas, to be awarded by school board trustees Mrs. Mary Myser and Dr. William Harris.

Other student presentations will be: "Word of Welcome" by Eric Davis; "The Mayflower Compact" by Mildred Helms; "Declaration of Independence" by Barbara Gilford; Revolutionary War songs, conducted by Joyce Grasso; guitar solos by Karen Rathbun; "Preamble to The Constitution" by William Woodbridge; "Bill of Rights" by Joan Silver; "Government of The People, By The People, For The People" by Peggy Luce and Arno Murray; and "Our Rights and Responsibilities" by Kristen Arnold.

Holly Wilson, student body president, will present the class gift, and the program will be climaxed with "All Is Well," a graduation hymn by the class.

Directing the school band will be George Cochran. Program directors are teachers Mrs. Pamela Lewis and Mrs. Jean Weber.

A dance for the graduates will be held in the multi-use building following the commencement.

—Obituaries—

Mrs. Bakenhus

Requiem Mass was sung in Woodside Monday for Mrs. Sally Jo Bakenhus, 22-year-old Woodside housewife who died June 6 when the car she was driving fell off the La Honda grade road.

Mrs. Bakenhus was the driver of a car which was following one driven by her husband. Her husband reported that he heard a squeal of tires and looking into the rear view mirror, observed that her car was no longer behind the one he was driving.

A companion in the auto driven by Mrs. Bakenhus suffered severe injuries. He is David Kowalski, 18, of San Bruno.

Mrs. Bakenhus, a native of Palo Alto, made her final home at 112 Skylonda Drive.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Demma of Redwood City and grandparents Mrs. Ben Demma of Sunnyvale and Mrs. George Gelder of Berkeley. A brother and a sister also survive.

Funeral services were conducted from the chapel of Crippen and Flynn, 400 Woodside Road in Redwood City, with Requiem Mass at Our Lady of the Wayside church in Woodside. Interment was private.

Edward Elliott

Funeral services are to be held today for Edward Elliott, Menlo Park resident for the past 20 years, who died Sunday at a local rest home. Elliott Drive is named after him.

Elliott, who was 86, made his final home at 140 O'Connor St. He had purchased considerable property in the area, when he retired to this community in 1953.

His career included immigration to Canada with his parents' family when he was a youth, a stint in the merchant marine, 19 years in the Philippines, two years in the mining business in Nevada and Alaska and partnership in a San Francisco garage from 1924 until his retirement.

His wife, Florence, preceded him in death. There are no close survivors residing locally.

The Rev. A. D. Hoover, retired Methodist minister, is to officiate at the funeral services, which are to be held at the chapel of Roller and Hapgood, 980 Middlefield Road in Palo Alto. The services commence at 11 a.m.

Interment is to be at Alta Mesa Memorial Park.

Alfred Lunde

Funeral services are to be held here tomorrow for Alfred Lunde, a resident of Menlo Park for the past year who died at Palo Alto Veterans' hospital Monday after an illness of one month.

A native of Norway, Lunde had been an engineer for the water department of the city of Milwaukee, before his retirement five years ago. He made his final home in Menlo Park at 682 Live Oak Ave.

Survivors include his wife, Evelyn, of Menlo Park and four children: The Rev. Alfred Lunde Jr. of Philadelphia; Mrs. Patricia Ann Myhre, Bellingham, Washington; Donald T. Lunde of Menlo Park and Kenneth O. Lunde of Germany. Eight grandchildren also survive.

Friends are invited to attend the funeral services, which are to be held at 12:45 p.m. Friday at the Johnston Colonial Mortuary, 650 Live Oak Ave. Interment is to be at Golden Gate National cemetery, San Bruno.

Homework May Be Coming Junior's Way

If you're the parents of a first grader, don't be befuddled if Junior walks in the door with a little bit of homework next fall.

The Ravenswood City School District administration is studying a plan for revamping the present district homework policy along lines suggested by a special committee of teachers.

Supt. of Schools Roderic V. Moore, once an opponent of too much elementary school homework, told trustees Tuesday that he's swung "180 degrees" in his thinking. He said that development of good study habits must begin early — and may also cause parents to take more of an interest in their child's school activities.

Edward J. Sullivan, manager of the Bank of America branch here, June 5 was re-installed as president of the Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce, at that organization's annual meeting and dinner-dance at the Palo Alto Hills Golf and Country Club.

Wallace E. Ott and Carl Titus were installed vice presidents, replacing Dr. Harold Brumm and James F. Stepp. Robert Starkweather was installed treasurer, replacing Jack F. Bowley.

The affair was planned by a committee headed by David Ingram Jr. and including as members Doris Farman, Dr. Eugene Taano and Harry Spade.

Help Get Jobs:

Employment Office 'Graduates' Students for Summer Work

Menlo Park and East Palo Alto students were among the June "graduates" from a unique class at the California State Employment Service in Palo Alto, the office announced today.

This was the first group of people trained in the Palo Alto area under the Manpower Development and Training Act which was passed by Congress in 1962. It is a combined effort of the Department of Employment and the Department of Education.

For 16 weeks, they attended full-time lay classes at the Palo Alto Secretarial School and had become proficient in typing, business math, business English, word study, filing and indexing, and office machinery usage.

At this time, the Palo Alto office of the State Department of Employment is now referring them to job openings in the clerical field.

The clerk-typist project was the result of an occupational survey by the State Employment Office which verified that there was a critical shortage of clerk typists in this area.

From this survey, the State Department of Education developed a curriculum which was responsive to the training needs of the occupation, selected the training facility, and trained those applicants selected by the employment office.

Tuition for the course and books and supplies were free to all students. In addition, those who qualified as heads of families received a weekly subsistence.

Age range for the group was 18 to 54 years of age with the average age being 42.9 years. Most trainees had at least high school education and, in some instances, had attended college. But in almost all cases, prior educational training had not prepared them for vocational achievement.

Participating in the graduation exercises were Mrs. Iola Sparks, who is in charge of all selection, referral and follow - up activities of the MDTA program at the employment office, and Mrs. Nancy Hendry, instructor of the class.

"We are very pleased with the accomplishments of our first group of trainees under this program," said Mrs. Sparks. "A number of them have been placed in jobs and it is our hope that all will soon be fulfilling needed assignments in the community. We are especially pleased that so many of our trainees were in the over 40 and even over 50 age group. These were people who had been experiencing employer resistance due to lack of skills but we are confident that the training they have just received will overcome this."

Christian Science Topic: 'God, The Preserver of Man'

A Bible lesson entitled "God the Preserver of Man" will be presented at this Sunday's services in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 201 Ravenswood Avenue, Menlo Park.

The responsive reading includes this verse: "The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore" (Ps. 121:8).

Among selections from the Christian Science textbook will be this sentence: "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need" (Science Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 494).

All Sunday services are held at 11 a.m. and Wednesday evening meetings at 8 p.m. Sunday School for pupils up to the age of 20 begins at 9:30 a.m.

Children under six are cared for during the Sunday services.

Woodside Burning Job Is Banned

Waste materials from the clearance for the Farm Hills Boulevard extension into Woodside have been ordered hauled away this week by the hearing board of the Bay Area Pollution Control District.

In doing so, it denied a request from the Challenge Contracting Co. of Redwood City for a variance to burn the material, much of it eucalyptus and other brush. Challenge is a partner of the Oddstad Home Improvement Co.

Car Hits Pole Near Drive-In

Lee Roy Lane, 21, 1251 Sevier Ave., Menlo Park, was treated for a sprained shoulder and dismissed from Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital early Saturday after a car he was driving hit a utility pole in front of 110 O'Connor St., East Palo Alto.

Lane apparently was leaving a drive-in when he lost control of his car.

Local Trio Take Top Crusade Posts

Three local residents were listed this week as members of the top-echelon cabinet that will direct next October's San Mateo County United Crusade campaign.

They are Charles A. Black of Woodside, Mrs. Thomas W. Ford of Portola Valley, and John J. Douglas of Atherton.

In disclosing the names, campaign chairman Leonard J. Bardsley said plans for the campaign are well under way, with positions in the cabinet virtually filled by leaders in business, education and civic organizations. Bardsley is manager of Johnson and Johnson in Menlo Park.

Black is assistant to the president of Ampex Corp. and chairman of the important commerce and industry division of the county Crusade. Mrs. Ford, wife of the incumbent president of the Santa Clara County Fund, is countywide co-chairman of the residential division. Douglas, president of Lenkurt Electric Co. in San Carlos, is chairman of the account executive recruitment committee in the commerce and industry division. He was named "Man of the Year" for 1962 by the Peninsula Manufacturers' Assn.

Graduation Rites Held At St. Raymond's

Graduation ceremonies were held Sunday afternoon for students completing the eighth grade at St. Raymond's School.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edwin Kennedy, parish pastor, presented diplomas at the 5 p.m. rites.

Graduates attended a special Mass sung Tuesday at 9 a.m., which was followed by a breakfast honoring the grads.

That evening, the graduates attended a party, presented for them by members of the Mothers and Fathers Club of the school.

There were 42 members in the class.

Artists Exhibit At the Library

Several members of the Thirty and One Artists are displaying their works in a variety of media at Menlo Park library during the month of June.

Water colors, oils and collage are featured in an exhibit aranged by Mrs. Howard Johnston of Menlo Park, art chairman for the library who is herself a member of the group.

Exhibiting artists are Dee Spain, Faye Stanley, Mary Bailey, Evelyn Burn, Frances Goodrich, Ida Fae Ludwig, Huberta Higgins and Lillian Linnell.

The Thirty and One Artists are select group of Peninsula artists whose members must meet special requirements for membership.

A prospective member must submit a work of art to a jury for judging, before his name can be put up for membership. For the most part, members are "selling" artists.

At Two Schools:

School District Musicians Perform in Special Concert

A musical program for all district sixth graders received highly favorable comment from many of those who heard it last week, Mrs. Fredone Nielsen, Ravenswood City School District consultant, reported.

Particular praise went to Garden Oaks pianist Edmund Correia who played an arrangement of the "Exodus" theme. The arrangement was written by Kay Raney, district instrumental teacher who is also a promising composer, Mrs. Nielsen said.

Two programs were held — one at Willow School on June 4 and the other at Green Oaks School multi-purpose room on June 5.

Correia, a seventh grader, and another Garden Oaks student, percussionist Bob de- playing.

Also performing were all sixth grade students in a series of songs, the 67 - piece Ravenswood City School District orchestra and the 17-piece dance band.

The sixth grade singers performed the "Star Spangled Banner," accompanied by the orchestra; "America, the Beautiful," with clarinet solo; "Alleluia," "Shenandoah," "Streets of Laredo," "Press Along" and the rounds "June Lovely June," "Farewell Comrades," and the "Rally Song."

George, were soloists. DeGeorge provided the audience with an exhibition of timpani

During the Shenandoah performance, individual soloists from each sixth grade class were featured.

Smaller vocal groups from the various district schools were then heard.

Music by the Costano School string ensemble was another special feature.

Next was the orchestra's performance of the music from Exodus with Correia as the soloist.

The sixth graders than sang "June is Bustin' Out All Over" and "It's a Good Day." They were accompanied by the dance band.

The band, which is composed of students from the district instrumental music classes concluded the afternoon of music with a series of numbers.

PG&E Line No Threat To Aircraft

The Federal Aviation Agency has determined this week that the proposed high tower transmission line to power the future linear accelerator on Stanford land would not be a hazard to air navigation.

In a letter directed to the PG&E, the Agency said that their study disclosed "that the transmission line would have no effect upon air carrier arrival and departure procedures established at San Francisco International Airport."

"No other aeronautical operations, procedures or minimum flight altitudes would be affected by the proposed line and associated towers," it adds.

Voters in Palo Alto last month upheld city council-approved zoning for a section of the line, which will span a 3200-foot strip of Palo Alto south of Page Mill Road. Numerous protests had been lodged by residents stating that the line would have a hazardous effect upon air traffic and destory the area's natural beauty.

Palo Alto's Planning Director Louis Fourcroy is expected to render a decision shortly on PG&E's use permit request for the line. Protestants will have another 10 days in which to appeal his recommendation to the planning commission.

Beauty doesn't begin and end with your face

It includes your posture, your walk, your gestures, your smile, and your whole attitude toward humanity. The day of the cold beauty is gone forever, if indeed it ever existed outside of romantic fiction. True beauty means warmth. Men may admire a stone statue, but they do not seek its companionship. Radiance and grace appeal. If you would give the illusion of beauty, walk proudly and smoothly. Sit erect. Study your actions in a mirror to eliminate unbecoming movements. Make the most of your hands, they can be one of your greatest assets. Keep your nails properly manicured, and remember that polish protects as well as adorns. Avoid clamlike grasping. Bike Auction Starts at 10 Saturday Morn

How'd you like to own a Rutledge? Or a Korlis? Or a Phillips?

If that sounds like a list of antique automobiles — you've made a bad guess.

These are three of the brands of 36 unclaimed bicycles which the Menlo Park police department will sell at public auction on Saturday at 10 a.m. Police Chief George Potter announced.

Auctioneer will be police officer Harold Anderson. He will be running the sale in the parking lot next to the police station which is located in the Menlo Park Civic Center off Ravenswood Avenue.

These bikes were either stolen or lost, Potter noted. and have been held for six months before they are designated as unclaimed.

Also placed on sale will be three unclaimed flashlights.

Rita Raymond, teacher of singing since the 1930's has opened a studio for the coaching of voice at 626 Waverley St. in Palo Alto.

She had a long career as a dramatic soprano before entering the voice teaching field, in the fields of concert, radio and opera. She has been heard with the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Arturo Rodzinski, and also sang with other symphonies.

Her career also included successful New York recitals, as well as appearances in operas, on concert tours and on radio throughout the nation.

She for many years operated a vocal music studio in New York, and later in Honolulu.

Rec District Annex Bill Battle Is Still Unsettled

The infighting during the hearing of bills in Sacramento is something to behold, Mrs. Yolanda (Doc) Blom, Ravenswood Recreation and Park District superintendent, wearily reported late Monday night.

She'd just returned from the state capitol where another delay had been ordained in the hearing of a bill affecting city-recreation district annexation procedure.

It will be up for committee hearing again next Monday and Mrs. Blom will be there, too.

She said that supporters of the bill, which gives cities the right to initiate disannexaton proceedings from a recreation district within the city limits, apparently didn't have the votes and asked for the delay.

If this bill gets out of committee, another one dealing with the same subject and supported by recreation districts in the state will be brought before the committee, she said.

Mrs. Blom also reported on the recent meeting of the recreation district board of directors.

The board adopted the $91,783 budget for 1963-64 as recommended by Mrs. Blom. It maintains the present district tax rate of 45 cents per $100 of assessed value.

The public hearing was brief. There were no persons present to protest or comment on the 1963-64 spending program.

The district directors also approved in principle terms of an agreement with the Ravenswood City School District trustees for joint development and operation of the Kavanaugh School playground.

(The school district gave formal approval to the agreement Monday night anl also let a contract for turfing and a sprinkler system at Kavanaugh. The recreation district will share in water costs and will assume all other maintenance responsibilities.)

Mrs. Blom also displayed a map of the Kavanaugh development. There will be baseball diamonds with backstops, skin infields and grass outfields facing each other at opposite sides of the playground.

Insurance Agency Okayed in Valley

An insurance agency will be established in a frame residence at the corner of Portola Road and Nathhorst Avenue.

The San Mateo County Planning Commission last week approved a conditional use permit for the agency operated by Grant B. Culley Jr. of 857 Westridge Drive, Portola Valley.

The house is on a one-acre plot adjacent to the Valley Super shopping area.

The use permit is for a one-year period.

Dirks Serving On Okinawa

OKINAWA — Marine Private First Class Donald Dirks, son of Mrs. Ruth E. Fields of 1392 Carlton Ave., Menlo Park, a member of the First Battalion, Ninth Marines, arrived on Okinawa recently to serve a tour of duty with the Third Marine Division in the Far East.

While on Okinawa, the battalion will undergo various phases of infantry training designed to improve their combat efficiency.

The Third Marine Division is the amphibious "force-in-readiness" ground element of the Seventh Fleet in the Far East.

Safe Crackers Prove Failures

Persons unknown some time late Saturday or early Sunday attempted to crack open a safe at the News-Call Bulletin circulation office at 633 Bay Road, but failed to do so. There wasn't much cash in the safe anyhow, the office manager told investigating police.

The break-in and safe-cracking attempt were discovered at 2:47 a.m. by police checking doors of business houses in the area.

A door to the office had been broken and the safe was damaged also, police report.

Achievement:

Realtors Name New Members To 'Million Dollar' Club

Three more members of the Menlo Park-Atherton Board of Realtors have attained the enviable goal of Life Membership in the Million Dollar Club of the Multiple Listing Service of that organization.

Reaching this pinnacle to join Laverne Wilson of Fox and Carskadon, who has been the sole winner to date, are Edmond McCarthy and Samuel Wright, both of Fox and Carskadon, Realtors, and Thomas Fitch of John Wickett & Co.

The achievement of this goal signals the fact that those so honored have been involved in the sale of $1,000,000 worth of Real Estate through the Multiple Listing Service of the Menlo-Park-Atherton Board of Realtors during a two-and-one-half year period. These people received a handsome wall plaque delineating their achievement.

Others receiving awards for the various plateaus of achievement are: First Plateau, $100,000 in a calendar quarter: Ron Ferguson, Ruth Johnson, Margaret Langdon, Grace Mortsoff, Ina Romeis, John Slattery, Ray Spaulding, Gildo Trevisan, Geraldine Von Husen, Ralph N. Willson, and Paul Wilson, all of whom received prestige fountain pens with name inscribed.

Second Plateau, $250,000 cumulative credit, Hans Bracht, Edward Nichols and Sophie Thompson, who received wallets with name imprinted.

Third Plateau, $500,000 cumulative credit, David A. Diegelman of Crosby & Diegelman and Allen Kayser of August Associates, who received leather and brass ash trays with name plate.

Mason Ayer Feted

It was scheduled to be the normal kind of Ravenswood elementary school Parent-Teacher Association year-end meeting — business session, installation of officers and motion picture.

That's what principal Mason Ayer believed, at any rate.

He found out what the real program was when Mrs. Edward Gee, PTA president, announced that the film wouldn't be shown and that Ayer, who is leaving the district after many years of service, would be the guest at a party in his honor.

About 150 persons were present at the Brentwood School multi-use building.

Ayer, who had been offered an administrative post here which represented an advancement in pay, told the audience he'd decided to take a position in San Mateo which was "next to my heart." He will teach at a special school for retarded children.

He sat back and enjoyed it all as first graders presented him with a life-sized picture. And he heard the third graders recite stories and poems about his work here. What's more, two fifth-grade classes presented "typical" Ravenswood School scenes portraying teachers and Ayer.

Ayer was presented with a briefcase and two tickets to a Giants baseball game as a going-away gift from students and parents.

Strep Incidence Here Lower Than in Other Parts of County

Four cases of gonorrhea, four cases of syphilis, six streptoccocal infections, five cases of measles and one case each of hepatitis and tuberculosis were reported from Menlo Park during May, according to the county department of health and welfare.

The strep outbreak could be related to a heavier incidence in mid-county cities; Redwood City reported 48 new cases of the communicable disease during the month, San Carlos 25 and San Mateo, 32.

The reported incidences of communicable disease came from the health department's regular monthly statistical bulletin. The health department concedes that the report isn't as accurate in the case of scattered incidences of diseases as it is in the case of major outbreaks.

There were no reported new strep cases in Atherton, but there were three in East Palo Alto and four in Woodside, the report said.

Other diseases reported from south county cities included:

Atherton: One case of German measles.

Woodside: One case of syphilis.

East Palo Alto: Six cases of gonorrhea, five cases of syphilis, one case of tuberculosis.
